DESPERADOES SURROUNDED BY POSSES IS BELIEF

Capture Of Two Escaped Convicts Looms; Make Threats of Lynching

BULLETIN
SACRAMENTO, May 7.—Sheriff Ellis Jones and a newly organized posse rushed from here today to Clarksburg, Yolo county, where it was reported this afternoon two men resembling Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, the escaped San Quentin murderers, had appeared. The men were reported to have purchased bread at a Clarksburg store. Sheriff Riecks of San Joaquin county, has also despatched a posse to join in the search. The two men were reported unarmed. Their description closely tallied with that of Tanko and Hall.

COLFAX, Cal., May 7.—One of the greatest man-hunts in the west's history will end today.

This was the belief expressed this morning by heads of posses of more than 500 men searching the wilds of the high Sierras for Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, San Quentin murderers, who for weeks have terrorized California. "Tanko and Hall are surrounded in Long canyon and cannot escape the cordon of men," declared Bernard McShane, chief of police of Sacramento, who is directing the search for the desperadoes. "If they attempt to escape now they will be captured, and if they remain in the canyon, we will starve them out," McShane said.

Two Sheriffs Quit Chase For Fugitives In Mountains

SACRAMENTO, May 7.—Sheriff Ellis Jones and members of his posse returned today from the hunt in the high Sierras for Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall. Sheriff Elmer Gum and a posse from Placer county have also given up the chase. Members of the posse announced that Placer county officers, Sacramento police and miners and woodsmen were continuing the man hunt and expected to meet with success today. The desperadoes, they said, were believed to be surrounded in a canyon. Search is also being made of old mining tunnels in the You Bet section, where the pair may have secreted themselves.

Convicts May Be Lynched When Caught, Says Editor

NEVADA CITY, Calif., May 7.—Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, daring San Quentin convicts who have been terrorizing this district, were threatened with lynching today should they fall into the hands of the posses who have been searching for them for the past three days, according to L. G. Sersleeve, editor of the Nevada City News. "The men would never see the inside of the Nevada county jail," Gildersleeve said. He continued: "The insulting defiance shown the community by the two desperadoes has so inflamed the posses of miners and old residents who have been assisting the Sacramento sheriff in his man hunt that it is more than probable the stern justice of frontier days would be meted out. "Two graves, unmarked except perhaps by a rough board, may be the desperadoes' last resting place should they be captured alive by the grim men now after them. "During the early mining days in the Mother Lode district few bandits ever escaped, although there were no telephones, no motor cars and few roads. "There is no reason to suppose the present outlaws will fare any differently. The capture of Tanko and Hall is imminent."

Zero Weather Ruins Early Midwest Crop

CHICAGO, May 7.—The west and mid-west today was taking stock of the toll in ruined farms and fruit crops which it paid yesterday and last night to the abnormal cold and frost. The sting of the low temperatures was sharpest in Iowa, where the strawberry and other early fruit crops were reported virtually wiped out. Nebraska, Kansas, the Dakotas, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin and even as far south as sections of Indiana also reported early growths killed. Illinois escaped with slight damage, according to a preliminary survey. Temperatures over the entire area ranged from below freezing to a few degrees above.

GOLD RUSH IS PLANNED BY AIRPLANE

Mining Engineer Prepares For Flight To Lease Lake Claim

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 7.—Epitomizing the world of progress made since the Klondike gold rush with its tragic "trail of '98," Archibald Little, mining engineer of Detroit, Mich., arrived here yesterday to prepare for an airplane trip to the Dease lake gold claim.

Accompanied by three experienced prospectors, Mr. Little has contracted for the use of a Vickers plane to be piloted by Colonel Mathews, of the R. A. F. The party will hop off from Prince Rupert in a few days, and expect to reach the Cassiar country, in which the new gold field lies, before many of the "winter mushers" who started weeks ago arrive. The possibility of airplane mining exploration, long considered as feasible here, has received a boost by Mr. Little's announcement.

START ORGANIZATION FOR TRADE AT HOME

Glendale Merchants to Name Committee For Purpose of Furthering Plan; Praise for Policy of The News

Initial steps toward the formation of an organization whose principal idea will be the promotion of the "trade in Glendale" idea, were taken today noon when a representative group of business men met at the Egyptian Village cafe. C. J. Hatz, president of the Glendale Merchants' association, presided.

President Hatz, at the conclusion of the meeting, announced that the board of directors of the Glendale Merchants' association would select a committee within the next two days to work out the plans and all necessary details for the proposed organization. Efforts would be made to interest the service clubs of Glendale in the move, and plans laid for an educational campaign.

The keynote of the situation was sounded by R. E. Johnston when he said that there was no permanent organization in Glendale to boost the trade at home idea, and aside from periodical efforts, which became dormant after a short time, very little was being done along that line. There is a great need to create public sentiment regarding local trading, he said.

Evening News' Stand

"I am glad to see two members of the City Council who are merchants," A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, said. "They will, and always have taken an interest in Glendale. On behalf of The Glendale Evening News, I can say that my idea is to protect the business in Glendale, and be 100 per cent behind the local merchants."

"It has been my practice not to take any advertisements from large concerns outside of Glendale who are in direct competition with the merchants of this city. Daily The Glendale Evening News turns down business from firms in other cities, because these firms are trying to secure business from Glendale merchants."

Glendale Exclusively

"Day after day the paper has carried editorials urging the people of Glendale to trade at home. The Glendale Evening News is an exclusively Glendale paper, and offers to consolidate with other papers, which would mean more money to me, have been repeatedly turned down. We are for the merchants of Glendale and devote space and time in trying to make other residents of Glendale see the advisability of trading here."

"There is no question that Mr. Cowan and The Glendale Evening News are upholding the established institutions of this city," President Hatz said, following Mr. Cowan's address. "There can be no just criticism of the policy of The Glendale Evening News as carried out by Mr. Cowan. I have read the editorials that appear in his paper about trading at home, and believe they are doing a great deal of good in Glendale. It is a wonderful work, and one that will assist this proposed organization a great deal."

"There is no better medium of influence than the newspapers," said W. Hobbs Fernie, secretary-manager of the Glendale Merchants' association. "I, too, have read these 'trade-at-home' editorials written by Mr. Cowan, and want to commend him on the clear line of logic expressed in them. The newspapers suffer

Avoids Jail

MRS. JULIE SHEPHERD, accused of aiding her husband, William D. Shepherd, in an alleged poison plot, is in retirement in her home, and she will avoid going to jail by depositing $5000 bail tomorrow.

BULLETIN
CHICAGO, May 7.—Mrs. Julie Shepherd, accused of aiding her husband, William D. Shepherd, to carry out a sixteen-year plot to obtain control of the McClintock fortune was released formally on $5000 bond late this afternoon.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Mrs. Julie Shepherd, the woman accused of aiding her husband, William D. Shepherd, to carry out a sixteen year old murder plot to obtain the fortune of Mrs. Emma McClintock, and her son Billy, was in retirement in her Kenilworth home today secure in the knowledge that tomorrow she will be released under $5000 bond immediately after her surrender to authorities.

The mittim for her arrest, ordered by a coroner's jury, was nolledd today by the orders of Jacob H. Hopkins, chief justice of the criminal court, who granted the request of defense counsel for bail and accepted their pledge to deliver Mrs. Shepherd into the technical custody of the court by 10 o'clock tomorrow, when they said bail arrangements would be completed. No opposition to the course of action was entered by the state's attorney.

A few minutes after Mrs. Shepherd knew she would not have to spend time in a jail cell she was permitted to have her first unattended visit with her husband since his arrest.

She kissed him affectionately when he was brought in, in custody of a bailiff and asked solicitously regarding meals, laundry and conditions surrounding his confinement. Then they withdrew for their private conference and there were tears in Mrs. Shepherd's eyes when she came out again.

Today brought little of fresh development in the case, both sides apparently awaiting the opening of Shepherd's trial, set for

ARMADA SAILS FOR ACTUAL 'WARFARE'

Fleet Of 127 War Craft Off For Molokai To Start Minor Maneuvers

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE
Honolulu, May 7.—The United States fleet, consisting of 127 war crafts, shoved off from Honolulu today for Lahaina roads, off the Island of Molokai, where minor maneuvers will be engaged in.

Speeding destroyers led the armada from Pearl harbor. Ahead of the dreadnaughts which followed in the path of the destroyers, were mine sweepers clearing the way.

'Actual' War

Actual war conditions prevailed and before the armada steamed to sea the waters were patrolled by submarines.

The minor maneuvers will continue until May 29.

The present mimic war is held under the assumption that the "enemy" is lurking in Hawaiian waters which are strewn with mines.

Thousands lined the rugged coast of Oahu island, taking points of vantage at the Punch Bowl, Diamond head and along Waikiki beach to bid farewell to the sailors.

The Island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is situated, is the Gibraltar of the Pacific and should have defenses of the "strongest possible character."

This was the chief recommendation in the joint statement made public today by Rear-Admiral Robert E. Coontz and Major-General John J. Hines, chief umpires in the recent war game off Hawaii.

Decision as to "who won the war in Hawaii" was not contained in the report and no reference was made to relative importance of branches of the service—army, navy and air—as determined in the maneuvers.

The report said in part: "The Hawaiian islands constitute the key to the Pacific. In the group Oahu is the only island possessing the natural features required for a permanent main naval base. Our naval base is located there."

"All defense forces and means of protection for this main base are also concentrated on Oahu."

"It must be realized all the islands cannot be fortified, hence the necessity for making the defensive power of Oahu of the strongest possible character."

FORD CHARGED ANTI-TRUST VIOLATOR

Mississippi State Revenue Agent Seeks Penalties Of $12,000,000

JACKSON, Miss., May 7.—A suit was filed in chancery court of Hinds county today by W. J. Miller, state revenue agent, against the Ford Motor Co., charging a criminal conspiracy to violate the anti-trust laws of Mississippi. Miller sought to collect penalties of $12,000,000.

All local Ford dealers in Mississippi and the banking institutions with which they transact business were named co-defendants and the state revenue agents sought to attach the funds of the Ford Motor Co. on deposit in the several banks to guarantee payment of penalties in event the suit is sustained in the courts.

The bill of complaint is based on contracts between the Ford Motor Co. and its local dealers and alleges that contracts violate the anti-trust laws of Mississippi; that they are in restraint of trade, inimical to the public welfare and constitute an unlawful criminal conspiracy.

The bill charged that the Ford Motor Co. and its distributors for this district, the Bluff City Motor Co. of Memphis, requires an agreement with local dealers fixing the resale price of Ford cars and that dealers are forced to sell to the public cars at the exact price fixed in this agreement.

Miller asks writs of attachment against all railway lines in the state, covering all Ford cars in transit. Practically every banking institution in the state was named as a co-defendant.

Late yesterday Patrick and Street started from Memphis to Nashville. Over Johnsonville they were forced to come down and abandon the trip until this morning. Patrick said approaching darkness made flying dangerous and so the airmen decided to descend and spend the night in the little hamlet, flying here this morning. Patrick was amused when told of the anxiety over his safety.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE HIT BY IOWA

Charges of Farmers Turning Bootleggers Are Denied By Dry Leader

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 7.—"Thou shalt not drink is being enforced just as successfully as any of the Ten Commandments." This was the answer today of Wayne B. Wheeler, generalissimo of the dries, to the sensational report turned in by the Iowa branch of the Anti-Saloon league, in which it was bluntly asserted that prohibition is turning Iowa farmers into bootleggers and illicit distillers. So lax is prohibition in Iowa, the report asserted, that determined efforts to obtain modification of the Volstead law may soon be attempted.

Wheeler did not approve the report of the Iowa branch of his organization. Real farmers, he said, are not turning their corn into corn liquor, because the farmers are the backbone of the dry movement and always have been.

Furthermore, he asserted, if there is to be an organized effort to modify the law, the Anti-Saloon league welcomes the issue, "because we are beating the wets every time we meet them at the polls."

"Modification is the big issue in prohibition enforcement today," the dry chief asserted. "Those who seek to have the teeth out of the law are merely raising a smoke screen when they charge widespread violation. There are violations, of course, but the way of the transgressor is hard—and getting harder."

He cited the extreme bone dry law that has just gone into effect into Indiana, as indicative of the trend of public thought. In Indiana the buyer has been made equally responsible with the seller.

"The real test of the law," he continued, "is whether or not it reduces or mitigates violation. The Volstead act does."

"No law from the time of the ten commandments to the present day, has been thoroughly enforced. There are still murders, robberies, assaults and other crimes. If the American people do not want prohibition, let them wipe the dry laws off the statutes."

"Modification of existing laws would merely provide the wets with a toothhold to aid in doing away with the Volstead act. It would make enforcement almost impossible and make prohibition a farce."

Liquor Export In Canada Hit By Legislation

OTTAWA, May 7.—Unless it is changed at the last minute, new government legislation will put British Columbia's huge liquor export industry out of business. An amendment to the Canada temperance act, drafted by the government for early introduction, prevents the private importation of liquor into government-controlled provinces, and even stops exporters bringing in liquor supplies for outward shipment.

LIQUOR SHIPS FAIL TO RUN PROHIBITION BLOCKADE

Federal Authorities Aiming Still Another Blow At Illegal Traffic

NEW YORK, May 7.—Rum row, the line of liquor-laden ships that has been operating illegally off the coast in this vicinity and smuggling booze into the United States, is breaking up, it was said at prohibition headquarters this afternoon.

Under pressure of the government blockade several of the rum ships were reported to be moving northward. Commanders of the liquor-smuggling ships were said to have become disgusted at their inability to communicate with the shore through the smaller boats of the rum-runners.

Another blow directed by the federal authorities at the rum-runners was the government announcement that hereafter persons who provide the government with "tips" leading to the capture of rum-boats will receive 25 per cent of the proceeds of libel of seized boats and 25 per cent of all fines on the boats captured as a result of the "tip." The names of the informants will be kept secret.

Federal Vessels Cut Off Liquor Supplies for N. Y.

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 7.—An absolute blockade of Long Island sound to prevent liquor smuggling was established from this point today by a fleet of the "dry" navy that went down the harbor this morning and took up positions east and west of Montauk Point to watch for rum runners. A shift in the location of Block Island's rum row, is expected to result from the blockade.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Eleven more coast guard speed boats and four revenue cutters, the final contingent of the United States "dry" navy, left their base at Clifton, Staten Island, today and headed for the rum fleet.

This was the latest move in one of the government's greatest drives against the bootleg ships anchored thirty miles at sea.

The only ships left at the Clifton base were the "mother" ship and one disabled cutter.

Several rum ships were reported in retreat before the advance of the "dry" navy. Liquor prices have risen since the beginning of the latest offensive by the government against the importation of contraband liquor.

A dozen seaplanes to be used for reconnaissance work were said to have joined the government fleet. While the coast guard was conducting its campaign against the liquor ships, land enforcement agents co-operated by establishing an automobile patrol along the coastline to prevent any landing which might be effected by the bootleggers.

AD EXPERT IS 'AMAZED' AT AMERICA

Britisher In United States To Attend Convention, Says Advertising Does It

By D. A. DAPARMA
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, May 7.—"Advertising can bring about progress and prosperity in the world by teaching the nations that war does not pay as a business proposition. As I see America today I am amazed at the progress made. On every hand there is evidence of wealth and prosperity due, in part, to the people's genius for advertising."

The speaker was Sir William Veno of Manchester, England, leader of the group of British advertising men who left New York today to attend the twenty-first annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world, at Houston, Texas. The British ad men arrived from England Tuesday.

Gold Standard
Sir William, who is in touch with business conditions in England, said the return of Great Britain to the gold standard for currency was the best thing for British business and trade relations.

"Now that the pound is looking the dollar straight in the eye," he said, "the trade between America and Great Britain is bound to increase."

As regards the advertising methods in the two countries, Sir William believes there is a necessary difference. He said: "Americans respond quickly to advertising and new ideas. The policy is to try everything once and then reject the bad and keep the good."

Difference Cited
"The Britisher does not respond quickly because he is more conservative. His policy is to wait until a thing proves itself before he buys."

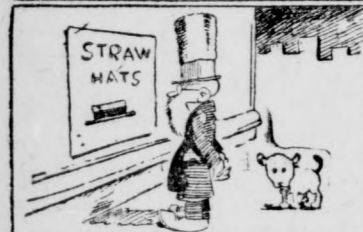

"To succeed in England, an American advertising man must study the psychology of the British people and pay due regard to the conditions."

Sir William declared that the election of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg of Germany did nothing to affect British business affairs. He said English business men expected it and took the news calmly.

STOCKS JUMP IN UTILITY TRADING

Utah Securities Advance 50 Points In Two Weeks; Big Profits Taken

NEW YORK, May 7.—Public buying of stocks of the utility companies, principally the Western Power Co., resulted in a lively and aggressive upward movement of prices on the New York stock exchange today. The professional traders and pools have had good success in marking up prices of a score or more of the utility stocks and public demand for these stocks has broadened considerably in the last two weeks.

Utah Securities continued its sensational advance and reached 127, up 25 points since Saturday and 50 points in the last two weeks.

Montana Power jumped seven points, principally as the result of a contest for the control of the company and other active stocks in this group advanced two to six points in heavy trading with transactions at the rate of more than 2,000,000 shares. A reduction in call money rates to 3-1/2 per cent helped the forward movement.

Near the close the market was subjected to heavy profit-taking and prices in some of the speculative issues reacted sharply from the high of the day. Utah Securities slid backward 11 points and East Iron lost 7.

QUAKES CAUSE PHILIPPINES TO WORRY

Seven Within 36 Hours Take Heavy Damage Toll In Southern District

MANILA, P. I., May 7.—Considerable damage was done throughout the southern Philippines as a result of the epidemic of earthquake shocks on the islands the last few days, weather bureau officials reported today. Seven shocks have been felt within the last thirty-six hours.

Negros province was reported to have felt the tremors most severely, machinery in several sugar plantations having been dislodged.

Weather bureau calculations placed the center of the disturbances in the Sulu Sea.

Jesuits' Opinion
Jesuit fathers, in charge of the bureau, laughed at the earthquake predictions for the Philippines made by Professor Bendani of Grenoble university, Italy. Bendani has predicted a severe earthquake disturbance for the western Pacific May 9.

According to the Jesuit scientists, more than $0,000 shocks yearly are felt in the Pacific, and it will be safe to say that Bendani's predictions may come true.

BOND ISSUE AID TO BRIDGE WORK

Los Angeles City Council Acts to Place Project On June Ballot

The Los Angeles City Council at noon today took action to place a $500,000 bond issue for new Glendale boulevard and Fletcher drive bridges on the June municipal ballot. This move followed a promise made by the county Board of Supervisors yesterday to appropriate a like amount for the bridges.

The bonds, if passed, will assure the construction of new modern concrete highway bridges over the Los Angeles river at Glendale boulevard and at Fletcher drive. Both bridges will be important links in the major highway plan for the entire county, the Glendale boulevard span affording adequate entrance to Glendale and the San Fernando valley and the Fletcher drive bridge, half a mile south, opening up a new main connecting link in the through boulevard from the desert to the sea.

For Bond Issue
The Los Angeles council instructed the city attorney to draw up a resolution calling for the bond issue at the municipal election in June despite the fact that the city is "virtually" near its bonding limit at the present time, a fact that caused considerable opposition to any additional bond issues being placed on the June ballot.

The action came as a result of a powerful appeal made by advocates of the bridges before the City Council yesterday morning and following the favorable action of the supervisors on the bridge projects. When the bridge committee appeared before the council yesterday, a resolution denying the request for the bond election had already been drawn up.

Stirring addresses by Alfred J. Barnes of the Greater Santa Monica Boulevard association and Carl Bush, secretary-manager of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, caused the councilmen to reconsider their action in committee yesterday afternoon. This morning the bond issue was ordered.

To Cost Million
Advocates of the bridges asked that the city of Los Angeles furnish half the money for the bridges. The total estimated cost of the two spans will be between $1,000,000 and $1,250,000.

The county has already agreed to appropriate half of this amount from the automobile tax money for 1926. This money given by the county will be charged to the road funds generally allotted to the city of Los Angeles. It was pointed out today that, although the supervisors will seek the consent of Los Angeles to this arrangement, the city has no actual control over the money, the disposition of the road funds being entirely in the hands of the county board.

Three Killed When Student Throws Bomb

WARSAW, Poland, May 7.—One teacher and two boys were killed and ten other boys were injured in a bomb, shooting and hand-grenade attack in a school room following the failure of one boy to pass an examination in a school in Vilna, Lithuania, word from there today said.

A few moments later another boy threw a bomb and commenced shooting at the teachers, killing one of them. The boy then shot himself.

Start Organization For Trade at Home

most in the matter of payments of bills, for many persons in Glendale pay bills contracted outside of the city before they pay their local accounts. This posed organization must have the newspaper behind it, and my suggestion would be that the association run full page ads from time to time on this subject."

Makes Suggestion
William Griffin suggested that on building jobs a placard reading "I bought my building material in Glendale" be posted only where the material was actually purchased. Such a placard, he said, would have an encouraging effect upon the persons living in the neighborhood of the new structure.

W. P. Potter suggested that the organization be extended to take in other lines of business besides the building material concerns. Where the prices were on a basic principle, he said, merchants should urge local buying, he said.

"Where we could and should get a lot of cooperation is from the local realtors," declared Fred V. Shuck. "Realty men, in selling property in Glendale, lay stress on the proximity of this city to Los Angeles. Why couldn't they talk about the stores and businesses in Glendale when selling property?"

Mayor Harry McBain, who was present at the meeting, spoke on the contracts for the sewer work, divided into ten sections so local men could bid on them.

"In the future nothing will be bought by the city outside of Glendale where prices are equal," Mayor McBain said. "I want you to know that the city of Glendale is behind you."

President Hatz announced that the resignation of Charles Stuart, druggist, as director of the Glendale Merchants association, had been accepted, and the directors had appointed W. P. Potter to fill the place vacated by Mr. Stuart.

When the committee named by the directors worked out all necessary plans and details, and decided upon a pro rata cost for merchants and manufacturers, another meeting will be called and the actual organization perfected, President Hatz said.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Joseph Derrery, San Francisco professional ball player, and Vernon Cooney, said to be a former eastern ball player, were held in jail here today while police investigated an alleged plot of the men by which it was said they obtained $10,000 worth of athletic apparatus from a local firm.

It was charged Cooney negotiated for the sports equipment, posing as a navy officer and said the "Was Mothers' League" would make payment. Part of the goods was sold later at low prices, it was said by the officers.

TRIBUTE PAID MOTHERS BY ROTARIANS

Rev. Clifford A. Cole Talks At Club Luncheon; Boys Of Glee Club Sing

Tribute was paid mothers of Rotarians at this afternoon luncheon meeting in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Rev. Clifford A. Cole was the speaker of the day, saying: "Because of your faith these men are what they are today."

"Modern mothers are the best the world has ever known," was a declaration of the Glendale Central Christian church pastor. "Mothers of faith—Christian mothers—are the need of America today to bring forth men to save the world," he added.

Rev. Cole advocated more honor for fathers on the third Sunday of June. Incidents from the lives of great men were recounted to show what mothers meant to them. Lincoln said, "All that I am I owe to my darling mother."

Even the Chinese for thousands of years have paid tribute to their mothers on New Year's day, the speaker pointed out. He said that men would be happy if they could be the fellow that their mothers think they are.

Guests Are Listed
Visiting Rotarians included Rev. Leon H. Austin, Burbank; Al Pryor, Stockton; Joe Case, R. C. Merriman, A. R. Jaquith, R. Burgwald, George Sillers, Fred Hooper and George Summers, Los Angeles; Austin Kimmis, Detroit, Mich.; Sam Mitchell, Phoenix, Ariz., and Charles A. Gunn, Shanghai, China.

Mothers were introduced by Art Dibern, Roy L. Kent, John H. Farnet, Dan Kelly, Thurston Harshman, Gil A. Cowan, George Karr, Harry Webb, Owen Elnery, Art Hutchinson, Rene Olson, Herman Psenner, John T. Cate and J. A. Newton.

Committees Named
Committees for year, including a new group for inter-club relations, were named by President Paul Stillman who gave the keynote speech for his tenure of office.

Fellowship and friendship are to be developed, according to the president. Paul Carson was named to succeed himself as organizer and Ruie Downing will be sergeant at arms.

W. A. Tanner, newly elected president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers, was called upon for a few words.

A double male quartet from the Glendale Union High school, "The Old Refrain" and "Smilin' Through" in addition to joining the Rotarians in club songs, Frederica Brown and Mrs. Helen Sawyer acted as accompanists. The boys were encored for the splendid singing, giving "Katydid" as an added number.

Charles Tawkes, who had charge of the program of the day introduced his daughter Shirley who announced the high school senior play, "Seventeen," tonight and tomorrow night at the Broadway High school auditorium.

Woman Says Abductor Is Son Thought Dead

BROCKTON, Mass., May 7.—"I cannot cast off the baby whom I believed dead," Mrs. Jennie Woodward Sturtevant made the decision today soon after she learned that the man hunt for Earl Woodward in the Vermont mountains had revealed that Earl is the son she thought dead twenty years. Mrs. Sturtevant kept the tragedy of her girlhood from her present husband all these years. Convinced that her son by her first marriage was dead, she said, she said she never dreamed the child had grown to manhood and had been behind prison bars. Now that he is alive she cannot cast him off even though she has a husband and five children.

LABOR LEADER STRIKES AT SOVIETS

Gompers' Successor Takes Stand Against All Communism

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 7.—The banner of the bitter opposition that the late Samuel Gompers hoisted against Soviet Russia and all its works will be carried forward by his successor, William Green, as president of the American Federation of Labor, it was announced today.

The present Russian government, Green asserted, is inimical to the best interests, welfare and prosperity of workers throughout the world, and he urged federalists particularly to militantly suppress any encroachments of Communistic influences in the federation.

The action of President Calles of Mexico in notifying Russia that his government will not tolerate any interference in internal affairs, and especially not allow the Communists to use Mexico as a base for "Communistizing the Americas," called forth Green's reaffirmation of Gompers' policies.

"There can be nothing but grateful appreciation in labor's ranks everywhere for President Calles' vigorous action," Green told the International News today.

"During the latter years of his life, Mr. Gompers devoted most of his time to checking Communism among American workers and toward cleaning house in those sections of the federation in which it was apparent extremists were gaining the ascendancy."

"There will be no change in that policy," said Green. "We will carry on."

POSTPONE ACTION ON SAN FERNANDO

New Councilmen Ask For Brief Delay; Routine Of City Board

Action on proposed improvement of San Fernando road its entire length in Glendale, including widening of the street to 96 feet from each property line, was continued today by the City Council for two weeks, at the request of Councilmen C. J. Hatz and W. F. Tower.

The proposed improvement is the most important single construction matter in the year's program. Los Angeles county has already awarded $60,000 of motor vehicle receipts collected by the state toward improvement of the road. The delay for two weeks was opposed by a few property owners who were present today, who declared that improvements they plan are delayed as a result.

Time to Investigate
Hatz asked continuance for one week to give him additional time to study the situation. Tower urged delay of an additional week because he said he will not be present at next week's council meeting.

The improvement includes widening and paving, culverts, sewers, enlarged water mains, curbs and sidewalks.

Petition of the Holy Family Catholic church for permission to construct a fence on the property line was referred to committee of the whole when City Manager V. B. Stone recommended that the council require that the fence be built five feet from the property line. Roses that have been planted along a rear fence beside the sidewalk are already partially obstructing pedestrian traffic, he told the council.

Central Avenue
Protests were denied and issuance of bonds approved for the improvement of Central avenue, and assessments for the opening and widening of Maryland avenue were adopted.

Members of the City Council were invited by the Memorial day parade committee to take part in the parade on May 30. Firemen who are off duty were also granted permission to enter the parade, although no equipment will be entered.

Mrs. Shepherd To Get Her Freedom On Bail

May 18, when he will answer the charge of having murdered Billy McClintock by inoculating him with typhoid germs.

Prosecutor Silent
Because of the attitude of the state's attorney's office toward the coroner's jury action regarding Mrs. Shepherd, it was predicted today that no bill would be returned in her case before the grand jury.

Robert Crowe, state's attorney, has maintained silence regarding Mrs. Shepherd since his first wrathful outburst when advised the coroner's jury had ordered her arrest, but he has evidenced little desire to go into the proceedings connected with her and has openly stated that as far as his office was concerned, there was no evidence against her.

Unless he presses the charges brought largely through Judge Harry Olson, chief instigator of the McClintock death probes, it was considered likely today that the grand jury would free her.

Woman Claims Attack
CHICAGO, May 7.—Possibilities of further "sabotage" in the McClintock case were being investigated by police this afternoon, following a report of Gladys Roberts, pretty woman detective who gave evidence against William D. Shepherd, that she had been attacked and beaten last night.

It was Miss Roberts who told the coroner's jury that she heard her one-time employer, John Jones, head of a detective agency, tell Shepherd to "tell one story and stick to it and you won't get caught."

Today, her face swollen as a result of her last night's experience, she limped into Judge Harry Olson's office and charged that the attack was a desperate effort "to close her mouth."

Her assailants, two men, she said, grabbed her as she was returning home, struck her, threw her to the sidewalk and then began kicking her. They made no effort to rob her, she said.

OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED BY D. A. R.

Annual Reports Are Given At Meeting Of Local Chapter In Church

Miss Ida D. Myers, regent, and other officers who have served General Richard O'Leary chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, during the past year, were all re-elected for another year at the chapter meeting yesterday at First Congregational church.

Other officers are Mrs. S. C. Leppanman, vice-regent; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, second vice-president; Mrs. Anne S. Crawford, recording secretary; Miss Hazel White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. G. Lyman, treasurer; Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, registrar; Mrs. E. M. Kennedy, historian; and Mrs. W. A. Saylor, chaplain.

Reports Are Given
Reflecting the success of the past year were the annual reports given, showing that the chapter has sixty-seven members, and is judged 100 per cent in meeting requirements of the state and national organizations.

Announcement was made that for the final meeting of the year, there will be a Colonial tea the first Wednesday in June at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Members will attend in Colonial and old-fashioned costumes and will be privileged to bring guests.

The members are anticipating marking a historical spot near Glendale, probably at the old adobe in Verdugo Woodlands. Funds for the marker are to be secured by each member earning one dollar during the summer.

Attend Meeting
Miss Myers invited all members to attend the meeting next Wednesday afternoon of the American Citizenship and Legislation department of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Yesterday Mrs. John W. Cotton, accompanied by Mrs. G. H. Horne, sang "Ah, to the Dreams" (Hawley), "A Thousand Years" (Work) and "Sweet Affair." Mrs. W. Preston read the address given at the state convention at Oakland by Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, national regent.

Miss Myers, Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. W. A. Saylor and other chapter members attended the reciprocity tea today at the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles.

TIRE MERCHANT PRAISES PRODUCT

Smith Firm Handling Viking Brand In Glendale, Also Extends Credit

Viking cord tires weigh more than ordinary tires because they have more rubber in them, according to Irving Smith, manager of the Smith Tire Co., 237 South Brand boulevard, distributors in Glendale.

"Beside offering an exceptionally good tire, we give our patrons the advantage of credit terms that are unequalled. We offer tire credit with payments as low as $1 a week. Courtesy and perfect satisfaction is our policy. Each tire is sold with a mileage guarantee, a feature that demonstrates our fairness and the confidence we have in our product," said Mr. Smith in discussing Viking cords.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Mental telepathy is perfectly possible, according to an incident related by a boy employed by The Glendale Evening News.

Yesterday afternoon he went into the Piggly Wiggly self-service store for a can of condensed milk. It was not to be seen and as he stood there glancing at the shelf of canned goods, a strange woman approached him. Without a word, not even a question, or a look into the boy's eyes, she said: "You are looking for condensed milk. There it is, on the shelf and walked her way."

"Now that was a funny experience," the boy confided to the writer.

But perfectly possible, if you believe in the radio and the recent scientific discoveries relative to electric waves given off by the body.

For years we have spoken of dynamic and magnetic personalities as figures of speech. Yet how comparable such people are to a generative radio set, or a receptive set, as the case may be. And as we write this a radio is talking off a children's program. Did you ever notice how some persons' voices and personalities, too, are carried through the ether, while others simply fade out, or repel the listener? Or have you been present at a luncheon and seen one speaker "get across" with his "stuff" while another, perhaps mentally a superior, falls down. The same contrast holds true in writing, in business and in pleasure. Science some day will explain these peculiarities, but woe be to the one who holds false hopes.

With the appointment of Charles J. Hatz as fifth member of the Glendale City Council, and a very happy selection, at that, the board becomes one of the most representative a city of the ideals and future, with problems to be found here, would desire.

Councilman Hatz conducts a specialty shop for women and he is president of the Glendale Merchants' association, giving him interests that include a grocery store and real estate holdings.

All of the members of the council are substantial citizens who are representative of the city as a whole.

With the first seven days of May showing a total of building already under construction here this month close to $300,000, it is only reasonable to assume that every effort will be put forth to make May a million dollar month. There are twenty working days left in which to turn the trick, and if the million mark is reached, the May total will outdo the same month in previous years, which is something worth working for.

Now read about the snow and sleet in Chicago and feel satisfied you are living in sunny Southern California.

BOULEVARD OPEN

Recent reports to the National Automobile club from Lankershim, state that Burbank boulevard, formerly Central avenue, is now open for traffic from Lankershim boulevard to where it connects with the paving in Burbank, although the construction work is not entirely completed. There is quite a bit of work in building up the shoulders at each side of the paving and it is estimated that this work will be completed in a few days.

MUSIC WEEK PAID HONOR BY SCHOOL

Special Assembly Celebrates With Program Including 'All Hail Glendale'

Music Week was observed at Glendale Intermediate school with a special assembly yesterday, marked by several distinctive features. Foremost was the first presentation of the new school song, "All Hail Glendale." It was sung by the writers of the lyrics, Alice Hitchcock and Dustin Smith, and winners in the recent contest, when practically every pupil in the school entered the competition to write a school song as a subject in English. The music was composed jointly by Miss Mildred Hughes, assistant supervisor of music, and Miss Gladys Sharpe.

Of equal interest was the singing by the boys' glee club and later by the assembly of "California's Calling Me," the new state song recently adopted by the California Music association. This was written by a composer of nationwide fame, Otto Meisner, and was dedicated to the school children of California.

The fourteen pupils who were awarded medals in the Eisteddfod contests of craft, plaster, watercolor, crayola, manual, and sewing, were called to the platform and addressed by the principal, Norman Whytock, who commended them on the splendid showing made when, out of eighteen medals, fourteen were awarded to this school.

The assembly was opened with singing of patriotic songs and closed with the flag salute and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

SENIOR PLAY AT SCHOOL TONIGHT

'Seventeen' To Be Presented By Students; Story Of Youth, Romance

By MERRILL MILLER
Written for The Evening News.
Tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, in Broadway High school auditorium, youth and romance will dominate in its eternal struggle with age and reason.

"Seventeen," a play from the novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington, a well-known story of "youth and love and summertime," will be presented under the able direction of Harold L. Brewster by a very competent cast, selected from the senior class, which is presenting the play.

"Seventeen" has been very successful during its first runs, having had one engagement of eight months in New York City at the Booth theatre, and similar runs in other cities. It also has been a popular play this year for high school presentation. At Park High school, St. Paul, it was selected as the senior class play and the entire senior class tried out for parts.

Leading Role
Walton Andrews has the leading role in the play, portraying, with rare understanding, the part of William Sylvanus Baxter, a love sick, hero-worshipping youth of 17 years. Playing opposite him is Miss Winifred Brewer, who plays the role of Lola Pratt, a demure "baby-talk" girl. They are supported by a most competent cast, which is as follows:

Mr. Baxter, Jack Alvord; Joe Bullitt, Wesley Pomeroy; Genesis, Ralph Timothy; Johnnie Watson, Arthur Cornelius; George Craaper, Arthur Timothy; Mr. Porcher, Wendell Beauchamp; Wallie Banks, David Rollins; Jane Baxter, Phyllis Kuehney; May Porcher, Elizabeth Brewer; Ethel Boke, Pauline Miller; Mary Brooks, Beatrice Raeth; Mrs. Baxter, Elsie Whitney.

Tickets may be purchased at the box office at either Harvard or Broadway High schools.

Women Voters Thank Evening News Writer

In a letter addressed to Gil A. Cowan of The Glendale Evening News staff, who covered the Legislature at Sacramento for several Southern California publications, Mrs. Ernest Wallace, legislative chairman of the California League of Women Voters, writes:

"We accept the thanks of the California League of Women Voters for the fair-minded and intelligent way in which you handled the news with which the league was concerned. We certainly appreciate your support and understanding."

Speaking of Assemblyman Frank C. Weller's bills for the re-establishment of the Sonoma Industrial Farm for Delinquent Women, which was vetoed by Governor Richardson, Mrs. Wallace says:

"We shall keep right on working for it and educating public opinion regarding the need for such an institution. It got eight more votes in the Assembly than it had last session and eleven more votes in the Senate."

GILLETTE TAKES MAUSOLEUM SPOT

Wealthy Southland Resident Buys Large Section In Forest Lawn

In line with his desire to completely identify himself with Southern California, where he has made his home, invested heavily in real estate and become deeply interested in the industrial and civic development of the community, King C. Gillette has arranged with the management of Forest Lawn Memorial park for a large section in the mausoleum-columbarium on that property. Extensive alterations are being made in the east end of Begonia Terrace, one of the units of the mausoleum, for a specially designed memorial mausoleum for the Gillette family. After completion of this work the bodies of the father, brother and sister of Gillette, which have been interred in a private mausoleum long maintained by the family in Kensico cemetery, New York City, will be brought to Forest Lawn.

The exceptionally permanent character of the buildings and of all improvements which are being made with the plan of the management to produce the highest artistic and inspirational quality in this work, were the chief factors, it is said, that influenced the selection of Forest Lawn for the Gillette family memorial.

Southland Beauty Spot
Added to these outstanding conditions was the further consideration of the policy of Forest Lawn to make the park one of the most striking beauty spots of the southland through its buildings and objects of art, typifying the highest instincts in man and the beauty of life, as well as being of educational value, and thus being of real service, not only to the living, but the dead.

All the main walls of the mausoleum are double, with an air space between. The building being everlastingly tied in to its rock foundations by steel, concrete and granite, this most substantial structure, copied in design after that of the Campo Santo in Genoa, Italy, provides the most enduring and modern of crypt and vault facilities to be found in the west.

The alteration work now in progress on Begonia Terrace for the new memorial will be completed while Mr. Gillette is in Europe.

Women's Relief Corps, Banks Post, Calls Meet

The Women's Relief corps of N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at G. A. R. hall, 902 South Glendale avenue. Mrs. Mary Bennett, president, will have charge. Members of the corps planning to attend the department convention in Sacramento on May 18 to May 22 are requested to attend the meeting in order to get their transportation rate certificates.

BANANA TRADE

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—The possibility that banana shipments received here will not be allowed to leave this district because of the quarantine against Japanese beetle may result in large western shipments from Central America going through other Atlantic and gulf ports.

Paris uses about 1,100,000 kilowatt hours of electric power a year.

FIRST DANCE OF SEASON PLANNED

Glendale Chapter, De Molay, To Hold Event Friday At Verdugo City

By PAUL HUSTON
Written for The Evening News.
Friday, May 8, at 8:30 o'clock, the annual May dance of Glendale chapter, Order of DeMolay, will take place at the Verdugo City ballroom. This is the first dance of the year for the DeMolay boys and promises to be a success in every way.

Irvin Carver, Henry Weinands and George Page have all been working hard to put the dance over. There are to be several novelty dances which will be real surprises.

The Verdugo City ballroom was secured through the courtesy of Harry Fowler, proprietor. The boys had tried to secure one of Glendale's country clubs, but were unable to do so. They were about to give up in despair when Mr. Fowler heard of their dilemma and kindly offered the use of his ballroom.

DeMolay boys are urged to attend as the dance is to be a monthly affair if the one Friday night is a success. Music will be played till a late hour in order that those who are members of the cast of the senior play and who attend the play may enjoy the full benefits of the affair. Music is to be furnished by "Bub" Carver's orchestra, the Glendallians.

NEW FIRE-TRAIL IS BEING BUILT

Valley Residents Are Taking Precautions To Protect Watershed Land

The La Crescenta valley unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association is constructing a fire trail up Pickets canyon to the county firebreak along the top of Lukens peak, "Sister Elsie" and the trail of the United States forest service connecting this with the Arroyo Seco and Haines canyon. This trail is for the purpose of getting fire-fighters and supplies into the hills by the shortest possible route in time of fire. This trail intersects the firebreak at a strategic point just above the trail canyon from the Big Tujunga and Dark canyon from the Arroyo Seco head in.

The association is also planning a camp which will be suitable for a large number of men from which they can work on a fire in any of the three watersheds. A branch trail is also being built up to the United States forest service lookout station by way of Round Top to intersect the north and south firebreak starting from the north end of Rosemont avenue, La Crescenta.

About $2000 has been raised so far and it is hoped to raise $500 more to complete the work. The money is turned over by the association to the United States forest service and the work is done by one of their trail crews that is in the Pickets canyon. This money has been raised by subscriptions from public-spirited citizens and by a series of dances. The Oakland Country club has been secured for the holding of the last association dance of the season Thursday, May 14, 1925.

The work which this organization is doing to protect the watershed is of great importance to the La Crescenta valley, Tujunga, Pasadena, La Canada and Glendale. The organization is carried on by volunteer effort so that all the money raised goes directly to construction or equipment.

The people of these communities and cities should turn out in large numbers for this dance and help make it a success socially and financially, association members urge.

News Expert Reports Prosperity In Offing

Ellis H. Martin, Pacific coast division superintendent for International News Service, with headquarters at San Francisco, was a visitor at the office of The Glendale Evening News yesterday. He has just completed a tour of the Pacific coast by motor car, visiting points as far south as the Imperial valley.

"California is all set for the greatest prosperity it has ever enjoyed," Mr. Martin states. "The great resiliency of this state in overcoming all obstacles as have confronted it the last few years, show that the heyday of 'good times' is yet to come."

Mr. Martin is well known to readers of The Glendale Evening News for his dispatches carried by the International News Service leased wire.

Re-elected

MRS. O. H. SPRADLING, chosen president of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations, for another term.

Success and development that have marked the past year in Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations, are predicted in greater degree for the coming year, following the re-election yesterday of Mrs. O. H. Spradling to the presidency. A university woman, a patron of Glendale Union High school and possessed of pleasing personality, breadth of vision and executive ability, Mrs. Spradling has been held in high esteem by all who have come in contact with her in the Parent-Teacher association work. She commands the admiration and loyalty of school faculties, pupils and patrons and friends, all of which brings promise of greater successes for her during the coming year.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Arthur Franklin, patron of Wilson Intermediate school, first vice-president; Mrs. L. D. Torrey, patron of Acacia school, second vice-president; Mrs. W. R. Wichert, patron of the high school, recording secretary; Mrs. W. G. Lauderdale, patron of Pacific and Glendale Intermediate schools, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ada Lynn, patron of Doran school, treasurer; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, patron of the high school, auditor; and Mrs. R. H. Thew, patron of Columbus school, financial secretary.

Revise By-Laws

The other feature of yesterday's meeting at Glendale Intermediate school was the adoption of the revised by-laws, presented by Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentary. The first reading of the revised by-laws was given at the April meeting and at that time a full account was given in The Glendale Evening News. Since that reading a department of safety had been added to the article naming departments. This new department will be created upon the request of the city traffic commission.

Officers and chairmen presented annual reports yesterday. Among them were Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president; Mrs. R. L. Young, first vice-president; and finance chairman; Mrs. W. R. Wichert, recording secretary; Mrs. Emil G. Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. T. Wintersgill, treasurer; Mrs. H. F. Croft, historian; Mrs. G. L. Berryman, auditor; Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentary; Mrs. J. W. Blair, education; Mrs. E. B. Moore, membership; Mrs. L. T. Rowley, philanthropy; Mrs. W. R. Kugler, patriotism; Mrs. J. T. Edwards, juvenile protection; Mrs. C. L. Viereck, visiting; Mrs. H. A. Thimm, emblems and magazines; Mrs. J. A. Grant, courtesy; H. E. Bremer, playground; Miss Eva Daniels, legislation; Miss Helen S. Tupper, child hygiene; Richardson D. White, community life; Mrs. L. D. Torrey, program; Mrs. H. F. Speck, publicity.

Shows Press Book
Of special interest was the press book compiled by Mrs. E. B. Moore for the First District, Parent-Teacher association. She had the book on display and stated that the publicity, if paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line, would amount to $10,992.10. She is to take the book to the convention at Fresno, where it will probably prove an attractive press exhibit because of the uniqueness of its arrangement.

BOY ESCAPES FROM CELL AT JAIL

Willie Clark, 17, Pulls Bolts With Hands And Walks Out During Night

Need for an adequate city jail was strongly stressed today by Chief of Police John D. Fraser and a number of other city officials, following the escape early this morning of a 17-year-old boy from the cell in fire station No. 2 on Los Feliz road, who, with his bare hands, yanked three bolts from a window, opened the door and crawled through to liberty.

Willie and Elmer Clark, 17 and 15 years old, respectively, of 535 Park avenue, were arrested by Patrolman A. M. Wickham shortly after 11 o'clock last night, on a charge of stealing gum and candy from a small store at 1407 South San Fernando road. The youngest of the two boys was sent to his home, while Willie was locked in station No. 2, to appear before Police Judge F. H. Lowe at 9 o'clock this morning.

Twenty-six packages of gum and ten packages of candy mints were taken from Willie. The two boys are alleged to have been seen looting the gum jars by Eugene Meyer, 423 Ivy street, who notified Patrolman Wickham.

Jail Cell Empty
This morning the cell was empty. Three bolts had been yanked from the window and the cell door pried open. A search that extended from his home to the outlying sections of Glendale failed to show any trace of the boy.

Young Clark was placed in the station No. 2 because of the fact that he is a juvenile. The state law does not permit boys under 18 being lodged in the same cells that are reserved for adults.

His escape follows an attempted jail break at headquarters station, when a bar was sawed nearly in two. Last August Jack Lewis, a confessed burglar and ex-convict, escaped from headquarters jail by bending down the bars at the top of the cell and climbing through into the corridor. The bars are untempered steel and are soft. They are not fastened at the top and can be easily bent.

Need New Jail
"It is time that the Glendale police department had something more than 'paper' cells in which to hold prisoners," declared Chief Fraser today. Gerald Walsh was captured by our men after they had worked for three days and nights. We had his entire record, a confession and all the evidence required to convict him of first degree burglary.

"He was brought in at that time at 6 o'clock in the evening. The men went home tired, but happy in the belief that he was safely in prison. It wasn't long before they were called on the telephone and notified that all their work had gone for naught. That the cell wouldn't hold a criminal."

Transfer Prisoners
"Cities of one-fourth the size of Glendale have adequate jail facilities, far, far better than Glendale's city jail. The department has adequate quarters in which to work. In Glendale we have one moderate sized room, which is divided off into one inadequate cell, and jail offices, crowded and inconvenient. The other cells are in fire halls, where there can be good watch kept on the cells, but we can't keep juveniles in the headquarters cell."

"When women are arrested, we must take them to the county jail in Los Angeles. There isn't a cell in Glendale for them. Many times we have to take other prisoners to the county jail at considerable expense to the city because we are actually afraid to try to keep them in our little 'paper' cell here."

OFFICIALS HIT
DENVER, May 7.—The Colorado Industrial commission has injected a new note into labor disputes by ordering officials of five Routt county mines to reduce their salaries in the same proportion as miners' wages have been reduced.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—The possibility that banana shipments received here will not be allowed to leave this district because of the quarantine against Japanese beetle may result in large western shipments from Central America going through other Atlantic and gulf ports.

Paris uses about 1,100,000 kilowatt hours of electric power a year.

SOME PEOPLE SEEM TO THINK—

They can dispose of God by spelling His name with a little "g."
That their opinion changes the moral law of the universe.
That thinking differently is thinking independently.
That an education is just another way to avoid work.
They have settled the matter when they have won an argument.
They have banished radicalism when they have jailed the agitator.

SPEED THE THIEVES

It will be mighty hard for the world to get excited about the robbery in Moscow, the loss of the millions which the Soviet leaders were to have spent in preaching communism and stirring up revolutions in other countries. In fact, we feel like wishing the thieves good-speed. The world does not wish to see Russia return to the autocracy of the czars, even though the country is no better off now than then. The people were afraid to call their souls their own then, and they still fear. They starved then, and they are still starving. Lucky is the country that can pass from an autocracy to a democratic form of government without going through the awful interlude of radical socialism, for we must believe that order must be restored in Russia eventually.

There are those who sincerely believe the election of Hindenburg as president of Germany to be a good thing, even though they hate the very name of the war lord. It is extremely doubtful if he could restore the monarchy even if he wished, and he may be a balance-wheel to keep the country from going to extremes in the other direction. At least, in his election the German people have expressed themselves as opposed to socialism.

It is hard to feel sympathetic for starving Russians while that country is using millions to stir up in the rest of the world the same kind of hell she is enduring herself. But there is injustice in this thought, too, for the Russian people who are suffering are not the ones who are in control of the government and who are interesting themselves in outrages in Bulgaria and planning to incite revolutions in America, in England, France, Germany and the far east.

A WASTED LIFE

The saddest thing in the world to contemplate is a life thrown away, a human being of average or more than average intelligence diverted from a normal and useful life along paths that lead inevitably to disappointment and destruction.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook recently gave up his fight against his conviction of fraud in the federal courts and began serving his fourteen-year term at Leavenworth. It is only Dr. Cook's misdeeds that are remembered, and possibly this is right. His brilliant and honorable record in the late nineties is forgotten. As surgeon to the Belgian antarctic expedition, under trying circumstances and with heavy responsibilities thrown upon him, he made himself beloved of all. In Amundsen's story of the south pole we are told that when the crew was attacked by scurvy, Dr. Cook was the most popular man of the expedition and that he deserved his popularity. Amundsen says: "From morning to night he was occupied with his many patients, and when the sun returned, it happened not infrequently that, after a strenuous day's work, the doctor sacrificed his night's sleep to go hunting seals and penguins, in order to provide the fresh meat that was so greatly needed by all."

What possessed this man later to falsely claim to have reached the top of Mt. McKinley, and later startle the world with a tale of having reached the north pole, which was easily disproved, it is hard to say. He was discredited and would have been forgotten before this, had not the oil fraud case come to light.

The life of Dr. Cook is a case of ability and opportunity worse than wasted.

CHEAPER TO DIE HERE

The slogan which Florida has adopted, "Come to Florida to die; it's cheaper," would not be especially appealing, even if it were true, although it is said that a number of millionaires have established their residences in that state for that reason. But the facts in the case are that it is cheaper to die in California, as well as cheaper to live here, for Florida's repeal of the state inheritance tax is more than offset by California's community property law, which greatly reduces inheritance taxes.

The federal inheritance tax must be paid in Florida as well as in every other state in the Union, but the government allows a credit for such tax paid to states and the federal courts have recognized the validity of the California community property law as applying to the federal inheritance tax.

Ralph W. Smith, a Los Angeles attorney, and formerly in the state inheritance tax department, has made a table comparing the tax on estates in California and Florida. This is very interesting, but too long to be reproduced here. However, it shows that the state and federal estate tax paid by a California resident on a net $1,000,000 community estate going to a widow under the 1924 federal revenue law and the 1921 California inheritance tax act is less than that paid by a Florida resident by $23,665, the deductions for federal tax paid and for community interest making this difference.

So, come to California to live. You will live longer here than in any other state in the Union. It's cheaper to live here, and if you should die, it will be cheaper to die here.

AMERICA, WORLD FINANCIER

American money is flowing toward Europe in a steady stream. Foreign loans, national and industrial, are being raised in this country continually. American gold is being exported and American goods shipped abroad on credit. The excess of exports over imports in the past nine months has been more than $1,000,000,000. Foreign securities have been bought by Americans so far this year at the rate of $100,000,000 a month.

One of the partners of Morgan & Co. is in Italy now looking into the matter of floating a loan for the Mussolini government. He may decide that such a loan is safe provided a high rate of interest is paid. That was the Morgan decision in Germany and France. Yet everybody knows that a very high rate of interest is an infallible sign of risk. Perfectly safe loans are placed at a low interest rate. France, Germany and Italy would all be good risks in normal times, but, in the case of another war among them, only financial chaos could be the result and American investors in the Morgan loans would be left holding the sack. With a war, German, French and Italian bonds will be no good. One authority estimates that America's financial stake in Europe is more than $25,000,000,000. American investors in foreign bonds at least are interested in European peace.

FOOT PRINTS ON THE SANDS OF TIME

The Cross-Word Puzzle

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A new book by a man named Foster lies upon my desk. Foster has invented a new kind of cross-word puzzle. I have several books of cross-word puzzles that have been sent to me.

Every day when I pick up a newspaper I see cross-word puzzles as an established part of the daily papulum for the common people.

The cross-word puzzle seems to have taken the country. It is said that more than 200 periodicals devoted to the subject have existed in the United States. It has become a sort of fad from which few people are exempted.

There is much to be said in its favor. Cross-word puzzles improve the vocabulary. They develop concentration and agility of mind.

Balmar, the famous cross-word puzzle composer in his day, says, "The constant use of the dictionary, frequent search for proper synonyms, study of the derivation and construction of words, logical habits of education and the ability to intuitively grasp an author's hidden meaning, develop an intimate acquaintance with the English language that steadily enriches one's vocabulary as can no other means of study."

The cross-word puzzle is nothing but an easy form of word square. Whereas, in the word square, all words are interlocking, in the cross-word puzzle such interlocks are but few. The constructor saves himself the trouble of thinking out a number of words of the same letters by introducing blank spaces.

One sign of a ready command of the English language is an ability to say the same thing in other words. And the proof of one's mastery of the tongue is that he can think of a short word and a sound Anglo-Saxon word in preference to a long and Latin word. In the days of Dana of the New York Sun, the word "commence" was taboo. The word "begin" should be used instead. As an exercise in mental agility, the cross-word puzzle fad has been a good thing. It is impossible to see any harm it can do, except, perhaps, that it can take too much time from other and more necessary pursuits.

But the people must have some form of play, and a cross-word puzzle is infinitely preferable to checkers, chess and other games of chance. It calls for resourcefulness, agility and the ability of one mind to penetrate the activities of another.

It will be found in real life that success does not depend upon one's logical equipment, but upon his combination of resourcefulness and luck. He must be able to think quickly and accurately, rather than be able to think logically in a straight line.

As a "cos ingeniorum," or whetstone for the wits, the cross-word puzzle is invaluable. The solution is not dependent upon skill of hand, nor deftness of touch, nor any other muscular excellence, but upon the powers of the mind alone, and as a mental stimulus it will be welcome.

Horoscope

This is an unimportant day in planetary direction, according to astrology. Mars and Mercury are in benefic aspect.

The Moon today enters Scorpio, a fixed, watery sign ruled by Mars and the principal vibration is Saturnine.

The influences tend to retard activity and for this reason it is well to avoid all new business or speculative undertakings.

Mars gives encouragement to all who engage in vigorous physical work and is helpful to all constructive labor.

This should be a fortunate rule under which to balance accounts or to deal in financial matters.

Advertising and publicity are well directed and should bring good returns under this direction of the stars.

This should be an auspicious time for working in the ground. Gardening is to become more than ever a national interest, it is foretold.

Foreign matters at this time probably will be quiet, but there are likely to be surprising problems before long.

Fires in public buildings may be expected in the summer months when theatres should be carefully guarded.

Secret diplomacy is to be prevalent in the summer months in Europe, when diplomats will meet new responsibilities.

Fashions are to change again and to revive old modes of conventional lines.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect an active year with more than average success.

Children born on this day probably will be wonderfully gifted, very ambitious and exceedingly prosperous. These subjects of Taurus like pleasure and high living, but they survive to a good old age.

Today's Poem

THE POPLAR FIELD
The poplars are fell'd, farewell to the shade
And the whispering sound of the cool colonnade,
The winds play no longer and sing in the leaves,
Nor Ouse on his bosom their image receives.

Twelve years have elapsed since I first took a view
Of my favorite field, and the bank where they grew;
And now in the grass behold they are laid,
And the trees my seat that once lent me a shade.

The blackbird has fled to another retreat
Where the hazels afford him a screen from the heat;
And the scene where his melody charmed me before
Resounds with his sweet flowing ditty no more.

My fugitive years are all hasting away,
And I must ere long lie as lowly as they,
With a turf on my breast and a stone at my head,
Ere another such grave shall rise in its stead.

'Tis a sight to engage me, if anything can,
To muse on the perishing pleasures of man;
Short-lived as we are, our enjoyments, I see,
Have a still shorter date; and die sooner than we.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Herbert Spencer preached that children should be led to make their own investigations, and to draw their own inferences. He held that they should be TOLD as little as possible, and induced to DISCOVER as much as possible.

Humanity has progressed solely by self-instruction; and that to achieve the best results, each mind must progress somewhat after the same fashion, is continually proved by the marked success of "self-made" men.

Those who have been brought up under the ordinary school-drill and have the idea that education is practicable only in that style, will think it hopeless, and foolish, to make children their own teachers. If, however, as Spencer observes, they will call to mind that the all-important knowledge of surrounding objects which a child gets in its early years is got without help—if they will remember that the child is self-taught in the use of its mother-tongue—if they will estimate the amount of that experience of life, that out-of-school wisdom, which every boy gathers for himself—if they will mark the unusual intelligence of the untaught-for-study urban, as shown in all the directions in which his faculties have been tasked; they will find it a not unreasonable conclusion, that, if the subjects be out before him in right order and right form, any pupil of ordinary capacity will surmount his successive difficulties with but little assistance.

Think how many minds have struggled up unaided! The name of Lincoln comes forcibly to mind.

Who can watch the ceaseless observation, and inquiry, and inference going on in a child's mind, or listen to its acute remarks on matters within the range of its faculties, without perceiving that these powers which it manifests, if brought to bear systematically upon any studies within the same range, would readily master them without help?

"This need for perpetual telling is the result of our own stupidity, not the child's," Spencer opines.

"We drag it away from the facts in which it is interested, and which it is actively assimilating of itself; we put before it facts far too complex for it to understand, and, therefore, distasteful to it."

"Finding that it will not voluntarily acquire these facts, we thrust them into its mind by force of threats and punishment."

"By thus denying the knowledge it craves, and cramming it with knowledge it cannot digest, we produce a morbid state of its faculties, and a consequent disgust for knowledge in general."

"And when, as a result partly of the stolid indolence we have brought on, and partly of still continued unfitness in its studies, the child can understand nothing without explanation, and becomes a mere passive recipient of our instruction, we infer that education must necessarily be carried on thus."

"Having, by our method, produced helplessness, we straightway make helplessness a reason for our method."

"Clearly then, the experience of pedagogues cannot rationally be quoted against the doctrine we are defending."

"And whoever sees this will see that we may safely follow the method of nature throughout—may, by a skillful administration, make the mind as self-developing in its later stages as in its earlier ones; and that only by doing this can we produce the highest power and activity."

Who's Who

The man who now has charge of all property seized from aliens during the war and still under the jurisdiction of the United States government is Fred C. Hicks, Quaker. He is also a former congressman.

Hicks was born in Westbury, N. Y., March 6, 1872, and was educated at the public schools and at Swarthmore college and Harvard university. He entered business as a clerk in a leather company and a few years later became a partner in the banking firm of Herrick, Hicks & Colby, from which he retired in 1911 to enter politics.

In 1912 he received the Republican nomination for congress from the First New York district, but, as a result of the division in the party, was defeated. The next two years he spent at Columbia university studying in the School of Political Science. In 1914 he was elected to Congress by a majority of four votes and was re-elected in 1916, 1918 and 1920, voluntarily retiring at the end of his fourth term.

A member of the house committee on naval affairs, he was an advocate of preparedness, voted for the war, and his attitude on war legislation resulted in his being declared by the National Security league to be 100 per cent American.

Last year he became the eastern director of the Republican national committee and managed Coolidge's eastern campaign from the New York headquarters. In November he was appointed spe-

POLAR FLIGHT TO MEET WITH FOGS

Log of Zeigler Expedition in 1905 Shows Sleet, Rain Also Prevalent

By HARVEY ANDERSON
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, May 7.—Captain Roald Amundsen probably will have to fight fog, wind and sleet on his flight to the North Pole. Explorers here have discounted optimistic hopes of clear, bright flying weather, citing, particularly the records of the Zeigler expedition of 1904-1905. These records, furnished the writer by Anthony Flala, commander of the Zeigler expedition, constitute what is said to be the most complete meteorological account of any polar expedition.

The Zeigler expedition reached Prince Rupert island, at a latitude of about 81 degrees north and about 700 miles east of Danes island, whence Amundsen will make his spectacular leap to the top of the world. Hence the story of weather conditions has an important bearing on Amundsen's chances.

The records of the months of May and June of 1904 and 1905 are the most significant in this consideration, as either May or June will determine Amundsen's success or failure. The Zeigler account gives minute weather data from May 26 to June 19, 1905. This record shows an unbroken string of cloudy days, interspersed with rain.

Expedition's Log
"May 29.—Cloudy; snowing. June 3.—Cloudy; driving wind. Moist at times, filled with hail that cuts like a knife. June 7.—Cloudy; open water holes fill the air with vapor. June 11.—Cloudy; wind, varied with downpour of rain and hail. June 12.—Cloudy; rain in squalls during day; rain-soaked snow makes wet travelling. June 15.—Thick fog; bad travelling. June 16.—Drift and rain; storm from S.W., irregular, from 20 to 60 miles velocity; rain, hail, sleet. June 18.—Cloudy; drifting storm, worst."

The records for June, 1904, show 23 foggy days, ranging from light fog in the early morning to "dense fog all day." The temperature records for the two years are about the same, with a mean for the months of May and June of about 8 degrees below freezing.

Wind records for 1904 give a mean day mileage of 268.5 for May and 230 for June. Velocities range from one mile to 48 miles an hour. The prevailing direction is from the northwest, countering such a wind, Amundsen probably would hold to the westward and the Greenland sea, in the hope of being swept over the pole with the wind on his port beam.

HOME DESIGNING CONTEST OPENED

Prizes To Be Awarded For Best Suggestions For Small House Work

In order to stimulate public interest in the importance of well-planned small house designs and the artistic handling of roof expanse, the California Home Owner and the Pioneer Paper Co., Inc., have launched a small house design competition, with $500 in prizes for the general public and $750 in cash prizes for the winning designs, according to an announcement by B. H. Custer of the Custer and Poesch Pioneer Shingle Co. of Glendale.

Architects and designers throughout Southern California have been invited to participate in the competition, which opened May 1, to continue until June 10. A capital prize of $500, second prize of $150 and third prize of $100 will be awarded to the designers of the three prize-winning house plans by a jury of architects and representatives of the Pioneer Paper Co. and the California Home Owner.

Rules of Contest
As soon as each submitted design is received, it will be reproduced and sent out to all entrants in the popular voting contest for the general public.
"At the close of the voting contest, the three voters who have given the best 100-word reason for their choice of the prize-winning design, will be awarded prizes of $250, $150 and $100. Payable in Pioneer Pioneer Rock-faced Shingle roofs." Mr. Custer declared. "This is an unexcelled opportunity for the public to obtain well-planned small house designs without cost and to see the type of structure which most nearly conforms to their ideal from the standpoint of beauty, practicability and artistic handling of roof expanse."

LEGION NOTES

Throughout California the drive is on to raise the $400,000 quota allotted to the state in the campaign for the $5,000,000 American Legion endowment fund to be used for the rehabilitation of disabled ex-service men and women and for aid to the orphans of war veterans.

The campaign was begun May 5, and will be continued until the California share in the endowment is raised, according to James K. Fisk, state adjutant of the legion.

Announcement is made that Burton R. Pitts, former state commander of the Legion, has been made the Southern California manager of the drive for the endowment quota. Colonel David P. Barrows, former University of California president, heads the Northern California drive. "We are confident that California will go over the top in this drive," Adjutant Fisk declares. "Our committee is headed nationally by President Coolidge and locally by Governor Richardson. California has never fallen down in her aid to the war veterans or in any drive of such importance. She raised $1,790,000 in cash and sent merchandise valued at $1,771,000 to the Japanese earthquake sufferers, thus oversubscribing her $400,000 quota many times. In 1920 California raised a million dollars for European relief and we are confident that the $400,000 share for soldier relief will be oversubscribed also."

Gold Star Mothers in every community in California are to be remembered by the American Legion on Mothers' Day, May 10. Acting under instructions from State Commander Nathan B. Combs, each post of the Legion has been instructed to send flowers to the mothers in its community who lost sons or daughters in the World War. Auxiliary units of the Legion have arranged concerts in the hospitals for the veterans of the World War and programs of entertainment also to be given in orphan asylums in which children of World War veterans have been placed.

For the second time within a few weeks, Miss Grace D. Nichols, Headlands, Sonoma county school girl, has won a prize in the American Legion national essay contest.

A scholarship valued at $250 is the latest reward given to Miss Nichols for winning third prize in the national contest on the subject, "Why Communism is a Menace to Americanism."

Miss Nichols was recently given a beautiful medal for winning the first prize for the best essay written by a California student on the same subject and now word comes from Garland Powell, representing the national headquarters of the Legion at Indianapolis, that the Headlands girl may select any college or university for the enjoyment of her award.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, May 7.—Verdugo Hills Merchants' association held its regular weekly meeting in Fowler hall with Hobson's cafe as the caterer. Winegard Campbell, plumber, of Montrose, was the new member admitted to the ranks. Better Homes' week in the valley, under direction of Mrs. C. A. Haskine, chairman, received the endorsement of the members.

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN

Views and Previews—News Notes from Studios
Compiled By Members of The Glendale Evening News Staff

Star Shines

Mary Philbin, in "Gaiety Girl," to be seen last night tonight at Glendale theatre, is wonder of picture.

King Baggot, former star of the films, now director of noted screen productions, has added a chapter to screen history. He has given the world a new Mary Philbin. The wistful little organ grinder of "Merry-go-Round" has cast off the drab habiliments of her first pictures much as a butterfly emerges from its cocoon in "The Gaiety Girl," her third big Universal success which closes tonight at the Glendale theatre.

Mary Philbin dominates the production—a London set in the gay life of London's theatre-district, the swirl of London's teeming millions, and the traditional grandeur of a royal castle. Human emotions conflict and a continent is invaded for love of her.

The story is spectacular, in setting and in plot. But more important, it is human. The real story is the story of the little girl Mary Philbin portrays, a sweet, love story that "Merry-go-Round" and a more gripping dramatic vehicle than "Fool's Highway." The setting, reproducing the Ritz, the Gaiety and other famous London landmarks, are gorgeous and impressive and doubtless cost much time and money. Joseph Dowling is convincing as the stern grandfather; contrasted to him is the butterfly-like Grace Darmond, famous beauty, playing the frivolous showgirl, confiding everything. The cast is well selected.

GATEWAY SHOWS WESTERN DRAMA

'Thundering Herd' By Zane Grey, Features Program At Popular House

"The Thundering Herd," which shows today, Friday and Saturday at The Gateway theatre, is bound to appeal to all levels of humanity. It will be hailed with the keenest delight by the average movie-goer because it contains some brand new thrills and bristles with exciting action. It will meet with the universal favor of the younger generation because it combines just the right proportions of drama and romance. And it is certain to attract the scholar and student because of its historical background.

The picture is based on Lucien Hubbard's adaptation of Zane Grey's famous novel, and is a story of the lawless west of 1870-76, when vast herds of buffalo roamed the plains and the Indian war cry was a thing of terror.

Story of West
The story tells of hardships of a caravan of pioneers who abandon their farms in the middle west and make a drive for the buffalo fields of Wyoming and Montana, at that time a wilderness inhabited by hostile Indians and concerns the romance of Tom Doane and Milly Payne whose "course of love didn't run smooth."

Acting honors fall to the lot of Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton, who effectively portray the leading roles. The entire production reflects great credit on William K. Howard, who directed the picture.

Presbyterian Church Names Education Head

Mrs. Keith Brooks has been appointed director of religious education for Glendale Presbyterian church and has entered on her new duties. Mrs. Brooks will have her office at the church and will be in charge of all educational work including departments of Sunday school, junior church and daily vacation Bible school.

AUTO ACCESSORIES

CLEVELAND, May 7.—Motor cars accessory manufacturers expect May to show a larger business than any month this year. The peak usually is reached in March. The Steel Products Co., which supplies tubular material to the Hudson-Essex factories, is running at capacity.

FAMOUS ACTOR TO PLAY IN 'MANNA'

Thomas Chatterton Added to Dobinson Cast For Premiere in L. A.

"Manna," when it is produced at the Philharmonic auditorium for the two weeks commencing next Monday, will have a new "Nellie O'Brien." Edward Peil made a decided hit in this strong part, but he is a moving picture actor under contract for Warner Brothers, who released him for the Glendale Playhouse production in courtesy to Mrs. Dobinson. Several times his picture engagement threatened to cut in on the play, and Joseph Cox learned the part of "Nellie," as an understudy.

The new "Nellie" is none other than Thomas Chatterton, who is a prime favorite with Los Angeles audiences. He comes of a distinguished line of stage people. For several years he has been at the Majestic theatre in support of Edward Everett Horton and has proven his versatility and sound technique in a wide variety of plays.

One of his notable presentations was that of the old steward on the Styx ferryboat in "Outward Bound." He took the part with a quiet somberness in keeping with the character of the play, and yet his characterization was mellowed by a gentle humor and hopefulness. He has done Western sheriffs and bad men and polished scoundrels and various other types. He has the face and the physique and the voice and the experience to put over "Nellie" in admirable fashion.

May Not Return
It is apparent from the inquiries at the box office of the playhouse that there are a lot of residents of this city who are much interested in "Manna" and want to see it, either for the first time, or for a second or even third time. To all such inquirers Mrs. Dobinson, organizer and manager of the Dobinson Players, gives this bit of advice:

"If you want to be sure to see 'Manna,' better see it at the Philharmonic in Los Angeles during the next few weeks, because I am not at all satisfied that it will ever be shown in Glendale again. So many things are impending and so many offers are being made to go elsewhere for the summer or part of the summer that it now seems that we will not go back until the new theatre is built."

"The Wonderful Thing" will close its engagement Saturday with a matinee and evening performance. This ends the long engagement of the Dobinson Players, which started last October. Whether or not the engagement will be renewed after the fortnight at the Philharmonic depends on circumstances.

The May party given by the Dobinson Players as a farewell takes place tonight after the performance at the clubhouse. There will be a buffet supper and dancing.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, May 7.—Education for the past twenty years has been a considerable failure because it has become too materialistic, and it gets upon a more moral basis in the solution of the problem of fathers and sons. Civilization may fall, in the opinion of Ben F. Pearson, manager of the Southern California Edison Co., in an address at the father and son banquet at the First Methodist church here.

As a benefit for the entertainment fund of the sixty-first annual state convention of the United Ancient Order of Druids, to be held in Burbank next month, the local grove has planned a night to be held at Druids' temple, Magnolia avenue, on Friday evening.

President Larry Wood of the Burbank Realty board was in the hospital; Vice-President L. H. Boydston was at the father and son banquet; several of the other members were with the Elks at Alhambra. As a result the regular meeting of the Realty board was postponed.

Magnolia Park has urged that an eight-room school building be erected in that district as the result of a poll which shows 233 children of school age within the territory.

Prizes will be awarded for beauty spots in Burbank yards and parking strips by the park and forestry commission.

Plans for the year will be outlined at a meeting to be held at Benmar Hills garden hall by the West Burbank Improvement association.

Annual May Dance To Be Given By De Molay
The annual May dance of Glendale chapter, Order of De Molay will be given Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Verdugo City dance hall. Henry Winans, master counsellor has charge of arrangements for the dance. A meeting of the chapter will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Masonic temple, 232 South Brand boulevard. Following a short business session the members plan to attend the play "Seventeen" which will be presented at Broadway High school by members of the senior class.

Stellar Role

MADGE KENNEDY, who has the leading role in 'BAD COMPANY,' now playing at the Cosmo theatre.

"Bad Company," the feature picture now playing at the Cosmo theatre in which Conway Tearle and Madge Kennedy are featured is fairly filled with pathos and thrills.

The story is one based on the love of a girl for her brother and her vain attempts to save him from the clutches of a bad woman. The woman has designs on the fortune she thinks the boy is about to inherit. The girl even commits burglary in her attempt to save him while the man she loves offers to discredit his own good name.

Bigelow Cooper, Charles Emmett Mack and Lucille Stewart in support of the stars do their careers, while other supporting characters are admirably cast.

An unusual novelty of this film is the using of the famous Earl Carroll Vanities Co. in several sequences. In order to make these scenes it was necessary to re-light the magnificent Music Box theatre in New York City, so that it would be properly lighted for motion pictures. As a result of this trouble and expense "Bad Company" has one of the most beautiful scenes ever "shot" for a motion picture. It is the "clock" number from the Vanities in which Kathryn Ray swings on the pendulum.

FILM THRILLS NOT SHOWN ON SCREEN

Star 'Takes Air' To Catch Train; Leading Woman Seriously Hurt

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.
HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—There are real thrills in the motion picture business which are not recorded always on the screen. Reginald Denny, attending the premiere of "The Phantom of the Opera" in San Francisco, flew with "Hoot" Gibson, Universal star, from Oakland to Willows in order that the latter might catch a train to Calgary.

Ethel Shannon, playing the leading feminine role in a western thriller being "shot" in San Fernando, was seriously injured the first of the week when the stagecoach in which she was riding turned over several times. The driver jumped when he lost control of the horses.

Arthur E. Chadur, cinematic engineer, has perfected a device for radio control of cameras placed at distant points for the proper coordination of panoramic battle scenes where several "shots" are taken simultaneously.

Clara Horton, like many other screen ingenues, has more work right now than she knows what to do with, although she has just completed the last scene for Victor Schertzinger's "The Wheel." One offer would allow her two weeks' vacation, while the other would put her to work immediately. With her friends at the beaches right now, Clara says she knows what "fifteen days among friends" means, and she will likely take a rest.

Spanish Picture
We have had German pictures and Italian pictures and English pictures and Austrian pictures and French pictures. Now comes Spain with its initial offering, an adaptation of "House of Troy," which is being brought to New York by Jose Junquera, Spanish sportsman, for its American premiere.

Tom Little, the king of props at United studios, has a cause for crying out loud. Demands upon him the last few days have included an up-to-date Paris telephone book, a Maori headress and a linen chest of seventeenth century, France. But he keeps up with the scripts and had 'em all, according to the directors. The telephone book came from a library, the headress from an explorer's collection and the linen chest from New Orleans, having been ordered a month ago.

Raymond Kutz, signed to a five-year Universal contract by Carl Laemmle, at 18 years old has jumped from an extra to stardom, which proves that truth rivals fiction.

Palestine is now getting most of its agricultural implements from Germany.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL SEES BIG FUTURE

Man's Power in Government Ended Think Delegates To Convention

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Mere man's long-recognized rule of the earth is nearly ended, in the opinion of the leading delegates to the convention of the International Council of Women, in session here.

The revolutionary entrance of women during the new few decades into politics and other activities, heretofore regarded by men as being his exclusive province was forecast.

Labor-saving household inventions, universal education and the world's need of intelligent leadership are the forces which will elevate women to a parity with man in every important activity, the delegates declared.

Women's Intuition
"Women's intuition and man's cleverness will make an ideal combination for the solving of political problems," Frau Kjeldsberg, president of the Norwegian National council of women, declared today.

"In fifty years at the most women will have an equal representation with man in the political councils of the world. They will be particularly valuable in handling financial problems. Don't the wives the world over prove this by their efficient treatment of their husband's pay checks?"

Frau Kjeldsberg believes that women will vote for individuals rather than parties, because, as a whole, they take their voting privileges seriously and do not follow the masculine practice of "voting the ticket straight."

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, May 7.—May 1 was a gala day at the Tujunga school. In the afternoon, a pageant of nations was given by the pupils. This took place on the upper terrace, with the audience on the steps in the arcade. The national costumes of the various nations were represented by different grades: the kindergarten representing Greenland; France was represented by A-1 and B-1; Scotland, B-2; China, A-1; Germany, A-3; Holland, B-3; Japan, A-4; Sweden, B-5 and B-6; American Indians, Opportunity class; Spain, A-6; Italy, A-7; United States, A-8. School work done by the pupils was on exhibition in all the rooms.

A cafeteria supper was served. A declamation contest was held, in which fifteen pupils took part. Those receiving the three highest scores were to receive Tujunga pennants, but, the third being a tie, it resulted in four receiving pennants. Miss Marian Messick received first prize; Donald Spurr, second; Elizabeth Conrad and Robert Johnson were a tie on the third score, and each received a pennant.

The sale of the Tujunga sanitarium and rest home to Dr. H. W. Fox of Tulare, Cal., was made by Miss Mabel Hatch of the Leo Lang sales agency. The property includes eight lots and buildings. Dr. Virginia Smith is in charge until Dr. Fox can arrange his affairs to take personal charge. In the meantime the buildings are being renovated and refitted with all latest improvements and equipment.

G. H. Smedley of the Edison Co. was honor guest at a birthday party given by Mrs. Smedley, April 19, at Whipple barbecue residence, Tujunga Terrace.

The Tujunga Rifle and Gun club held its regular shoot, Sunday, April 26. On May 17 there will be a shoot between Pasadena and Santa Paula clubs. The Hollywood Police club has accepted an invitation to come to Tujunga soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Price have left for a trip to Ontario, Canada, which is their birthplace and former home. They are making the trip by auto, going north to Canada, thence taking the Southern Canadian route across the Rockies to Detroit and Ontario, where they will spend the summer with friends.

The Kiwanis club and Sunland Baptist church are sponsoring a stereoscopic lecture on wild flowers to be given by Mr. Holt, Saturday night, May 23, in the Tujunga school auditorium. The flowers will be shown in their natural colors, and the lecture is one which every lover of flowers and nature will enjoy and should attend.

Tujunga was represented by several artists in the Glendale district Elstedsdoff, among which were: Mrs. H. H. Barry, who won a blue ribbon for a marine watercolor; Emma Kraft won second place in oils; Laura Lee Sweet exhibited two pictures in oils, "Peach Blossom Time in Tujunga Valley" and "Euclalypti"; another by Emma Kraft was "Afterglow in Tujunga"; Mrs. Frances Buttery received special notice; H. H. Barry had a fine photographic exhibit.

Mrs. Marie McGinty died at her home on South Walnut drive, Thursday, April 23. She was survived by her husband, Harvey McGinty. Interment was in Grand View Memorial park.

Dr. L. K. Wilkinson passed away at his home on East Michigan avenue, Friday, May 1. Dr. Wilkinson had lived in Tujunga for a number of years, during the first part of which he carried on his practice in Los Angeles. Later he gave up his Los Angeles practice and opened an office in Tujunga. He was a native of Evansville, Ind., where he was born May 31, 1867. Services were held Saturday May 2, in the Tujunga Undertaking parlors, Rev. Pasko officiating. Remains were cremated at Forest Lawn.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Intestinal Trouble and High Blood Pressure Plus The Usual

"Dear Doctor: I started your reducing diet and in four months dropped from 180 to 135 pounds. I had high blood pressure and severe intestinal trouble, but your diet fixed me up.

"Am still too heavy below the waistline and in the back and across the hips. Always had more weight in these regions.

"You speak of an electric vibratory machine and a rolling machine. I have called up every Turkish bath house in the city, but they never heard of these. Where did you find them? The corrugated hand roller which you recommend for fat in spots is also unheard of.

"Thanks a lot for the help I've received. Am 100 per cent better. Diet is the thing.

"Yours, L. L. Y. (That means: I love you.)"

There are other causes for high blood pressure besides overweight (over-eating), because those underweight or normal weight may also have it. Prolonged worry, incorrect diet, poisons from nicotine, lead, etcetera, over-exercising and overwork, are some of the causes.

However, one of the largest insurance companies states that of all the causes, overweight seems to be the most consistent. You have demonstrated that in your case it certainly was overweight. It is evident, too, that your intestinal trouble was due to overweight. (It very often is due to under-eating, too.)

Those machines I patronized were in Los Angeles and Boston. Most large cities have them now. The corrugated hand roller you can usually find in the large department stores. Of course, you can roll on the floor, and do other floor exercises—lifting the body without the aid of the hands—and high kicking. That will help the spots.

Thank you for letting us know of your good results, and for the L. L. Y.

Miss V.—Your abnormal flow of saliva would indicate either a lack of nerve control of the glands through some general disturbance of the body, or through some local inflammation. How about your teeth and your mouth hygiene? You might try rinsing with a solution of alum water. See to your teeth.

CAN YOU WEAR BLACK?

There are two types of women who look well in black, the very colorful type which is toned down by black, and the pastel type whose delicacy is brought out by sharp contrast, just as a water color painting is accentuated by a black frame. Black is becoming to blonde or brunette. It is only the woman with a sallow or muddy complexion who must beware of it, for it will inevitably bring out the predominating grayness or yellowness of her skin, just as it will bring out the ivory tints or the rose pink of a healthy woman.

The color of the hair has something to do also in determining whether you can wear black or not, though its importance is secondary in comparison with the complexion. Very dark hair or very fair hair is brought out by black more than any other color. On the other hand, dull or mouse color hair looks dusty beside it. This is because any good black is deep and rich. It emphasizes any light color. It contrasts of light and color within another color, so if the hair is of poor quality and has no such contrast it suffers by comparison.

There is no color so useful as black if you can wear it, since it is both dressy and practical. If you can have but one evening dress, a black satin with detachable sleeves for formal or less formal occasions will last you several seasons and you'll never tire of it as you would if it were any light color. A plain black suit can be used for business or for dressier wear, and like a black dress brightened by wearing any color with it. Some of the smartest new suits are of black and beige worn with black shoes and beige silk stockings. Dull black is unbecomingly ex-

TOUR OF LAKES FORECASTS FINE FISHING SEASON

SEEK ROYALTY ON TESTING OF LIGHTS

Charts In Use By Many Stations Under Patent By Company, Claim

SACRAMENTO, May 7.—Adjusters of motor vehicle headlights at the 1500 official testing stations throughout the state will hereafter be required to secure licenses from the division of motor vehicles, it was announced today by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division.

The move, Marsh said, is part of a general plan to rid the state of incompetent adjusters, and is preliminary to another statewide campaign by traffic officers against glaring headlights.

The licenses will be issued without charge, but the adjusters will be required to satisfy the division as to qualifications by a written application.

By GIL A. COWAN
 Written for The Evening News.
 Royalty will be collected on all headlight testing charts used in the state of California by the Moody Chart Co. of Long Beach, which has received final patent papers on the type authorized by the California Division of Motor Vehicles, it is learned.

The company is asking 10 cents for every test made by their device which was put out a couple of years ago without the notation that patents were pending. Many automotive electricians made duplicates of the Moody chart without realizing they were infringing on a patented article.

Seek Solons' Aid
 It was the history of the California Legislature that any number of devices, covered by patents, are shoved across upon the public as standard and official equipment and each concern tries its best to get the edge on another. For instance, the gasoline driven and electrically propelled automobiles have a biennial tilt, while the old magneto lighted Fords almost lost out entirely save for the kindness of the solons' hearts. If the Moody people succeed in collecting their royalty the charge for adjusting headlights will be raised from 75 cents to $1. It is anticipated, showing a net cost to motorists in California of not less than $300,000 annually. Of this sum the patent royalty will amount to more than $100,000.

Subject to Fine
 Unless headlights are certified under this charge by licensed stations, the owner of a car is subject to a fine for not complying with the headlight law. Such legislation is more than ridiculous, perhaps, but it is profitable, and at Sacramento it was openly asserted that one man had four bills

Now Is the Time of the Year When All Good Men—

Yes, indeed! This is the time of the year when all good men get ready to go fishing! Top, a picturesque scene in the high Sierras. Left, "Outdoor" Franklin whipping a mountain stream for trout. Right, a typical camp scene along any shore where the fishing is good. Note the complete Western Auto Supply Co. camp and car equipment. The map shows the location of the best fishing grounds. Picture at right bears out the theory that "fishin's good." "Outdoor" Franklin has made a tour of the best fishing grounds and he declares that the sport this year will establish a record. He offers his advice to those who desire it. He has gathered complete information about the Bishop country and will be pleased to pass along the facts to any wishing to visit that angler's "paradise." More sportsmen than ever before will visit the fishing grounds this year.

'Outdoor' Franklin Declares Sport Is Very Good In Anglers' 'Paradise'

By 'OUTDOOR' FRANKLIN
 Pilot Western Auto Scout Car

The prospects for a wonderful fishing season are exceptionally bright this year, especially in the high Sierras and in the Owens River valley.

The unusual amount of interest displayed at the opening of the season as to the probable fishing conditions for this year, aroused my curiosity to the extent of making a complete survey of the fishing situation in Southern California.

Our own streams, with a few exceptions, are practically depleted, owing to the successive dry years, and the fishing will be poor until next year when the heavy planting will show its effect.

The high Sierras have been blessed with an ample supply of snow and rainfall, more so than in the past four years. This has raised the streams and filled the lakes, insuring plenty of water for the year.

In Bishop Country
 In the Bishop country, the outlook is exceedingly bright, due to the fact that travel was light last year and very few fish were taken. This coupled with the extra heavy planting last year, will make fishing good all season.

The Owens river in Long valley is again closed this season on account of the large herds of cattle to be run there. Fishing will be better at Mammoth a little later in the season as this group is higher.

Convict lake has plenty of water and the black spotted trout are already beginning to rise. A No. 4 spinner, trolled deep and slow will bring big results. The big Cutthroats in Twin lakes will soon offer a great sport to the angler.

June lake, always famous for the big steelheads, is filling many a creel during the first few days of the season. Like Convict lake a No. 4 or No. 5 spinner will coax in the big boys.

Looking for Limit?
 Gull lake, a short half mile away, is full of cutthroats and eastern brook. A limit can always be depended on here. Stewart Welch has established a camp on Gull where a new supply of boats may be had.

Prospects are fine at Silver Lake. Eastern brook are being brought in with a Coachman or Willow. The cutthroats at Grant lake are beginning their spring run and thousands may be seen in the clear waters. Rush creek is doing its share to lure the fish-

Unloading Cars With Crane

Considerable time is saved in the handling of all-steel OVERLAND cars by using a crane with a large electric magnet, such as used in unloading steel in the vicinity of a foundry. One of the cars being swung through the air by the crane is shown in the picture.

AUTO BATTERIES VITAL ACCESSORY

Cizek Electric Manager Says Glendale Motorists Are Careful Drivers

Glendale motorists are among the most careful of the careful and condition of their batteries best, says E. W. Cizek, manager of the Cizek Auto Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard. The battery is one of the most vital spots of an automobile, Cizek holds. Poor batteries that fail when they are most needed are a constant source of embarrassment and danger.

The Cizek Auto Electric Co., Glendale dealers in Willard batteries and Gabriel snubbers, have announced that no charge will be made for testing and filling batteries, regardless of the kind of make that is used in the car.

"We find that the kind of service we give makes friends for us," said Cizek. "And with that friendly spirit and service we grow."

An automatic billboard, kept revolving by electricity, displays three different advertisements in the same space.

Harking back to school-days when pocket magnets were the rage, Willys-Overland service men tried an experiment with the giant crane magnet of the Southern Pacific and found they could handle all-steel Overland cars from freight platform to warehouse in just a fourth of the time they had been consuming.

"Instead of rolling the Overlands out of the freight cars by hand and then double-handling each car to get it down on the road, they swung each one handily down, set them in a line, tanked them up and kept things humming until the whole train was emptied and the warehouse filled," said H. H. Murray of Murray Motors, 905 South Brand boulevard, local agent for Overland and Willys-Knight motor cars.

NEW JEWETT SIX READY FOR TRADE

Tomkins Motor Co., Glendale Agents, Announce Coach Model On Hand

The new Jewett Six coach, just on the market, can be seen at the D. R. Tomkins Motor Co., Glendale Paige and Jewett agents. The price feature is the big attraction of the new car. Never before has it been possible to so nearly approach the open car prices.

Another attractive feature of the new coach is its beauty, reflected in the rounded smoothness and rounding curves of the body lines, radiator and hood. Doors a yard wide offer quick and easy access and egress. This feature is one of the many that appeals to the woman driver.

Roomy Feature
The roomy feature is a friend-maker among the male gentry—plenty of room in the rear seat to stretch "his" legs to his heart's content.

The serviceability of the Jewett is built into the new coach. The big, six-cylinder power plant is the same as was used in a score of hill climbs and races won by Jewetts.

SERVICE STATION CONTEST STARTS

Ever-Ready Shop Will Give Free Ford Coupe To Lucky Customer

The free Ford coupe contest being staged by the Ever-Ready Service station, corner of Broadway and Central avenue, is now in full swing. Everybody is eligible to enter the Ford contest. The car will be given away absolutely free. A free ticket, good on the prize coupe, will be given with every purchase amounting to $1 or more made at the Ever-Ready Service station.

"Not only during the Ford contest, but at all times we feature 17 cent gasoline as a special inducement to our customers," said H. J. Seely, manager of the station. "We sell nothing but the highest grade gas but give it to our customers for a cent and a half less per gallon."

BIG MEN BACK NEW AJAX CARS

Executive Associates With C. W. Nash In Company Highly Experienced

Further evidence that the Ajax, the new car to be brought out by the Ajax Motors Co., Nash Motors subsidiary is to be a quality product can be discerned in the calibre of the men selected by C. W. Nash, Ajax president, as his active executive associates in this new enterprise.

"My experience," says C. W. Nash, "has taught me that men and motor cars are much alike. Neither perform properly unless they have the right qualities. And so in choosing the men to aid me in the development, manufacturing and merchandising of the Ajax I was as strict in assaying their abilities as in setting the high standards for the car itself."

D. M. Averill, Ajax vice-president and general manager, was associated with me in the carriage business long ago. And since then, though circumstances led us into divergent activities, I have always kept in touch with him.

Other Selections
"George C. Hubbs, Ajax sales manager, is a man whose qualifications for organizing and directing a large dealer body are of the highest type."

"E. G. Gunn, Ajax chief engineer, was identified with engineering design and development work in the high-priced motor car field prior to this alignment with Nash interests."

"These men bring to the Ajax organization an experience and demonstrated capability in meeting the manifold problems of building and marketing automobiles with a quality appeal that fit them admirably for sound and successful administration of their duties."

MAXWELL BOASTS POWER INCREASE

15 Per Cent Added Local Dealer Says Without Change In Bore

A statement of the Maxwell-Chrysler engineers that a 15 per cent increase in horsepower has been accomplished in the new Maxwell without increasing bore or stroke, apparently has considerable to do with the new engineering achievements of combining into the new Maxwell models, for the first time in low priced motor cars, the three assets of economy, speed and flexibility. These sweeping improvements are said to have been made possible through redesigning of the cylinder block, changing valves and valve seats, improving the cooling system and lengthening the pistons.

Automotive engineers are authority for the statement that with a proper basic design a combination of two of these assets of economy, speed and flexibility is relatively easy to obtain. The trick seems to be to group the third with the other two. But it has been done in the new Maxwell, according to Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, Glendale distributors.

Demand Multiplies

NATURALLY there has been an unusual increase in the volume of Packard Six sales during the past few months.

The Packard Motor Car Company believed that there was a sincere desire for Packard Six ownership. Now it has overwhelming proof of this desire.

The average reduction of $750 on the standard Packard Six enclosed car models simply made possible the release of a vast, pent-up demand.

This demand will continue to grow as more people learn the good news.

BUICK OWNER HAS REPORT TO MAKE

States Trip From Wisconsin Made Over Excellent Roads Throughout

The story of an interesting trip from Oak Center, Wis., to Wilmington, Cal., is told by E. J. Rossman of Rossman Bros., Lumber Co., Wilmington, according to William A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, 622 South Brand boulevard, local Buick dealers.

"I have a very good report to make, not only as to performance of the Buick, but also as to the good behavior of the weather man and other members of the party," Rossman said.

The roads were good everywhere with the exception of about 100 miles near Flagstaff, Ariz., he stated. The total mileage was 2957 miles with no tire or car trouble. All passes and mountain roads were made with reasonable ease. The engine did not heat up under any circumstances, even when driving a considerable distance in intermediate gear.

Rossman visited the Garden-of-the-Gods, Colorado, the famed Cave of the Winds, made the trip up Pike's Peak and went through Las Vegas and Amboy to Wilmington.

Tries Hand at Cooking

C. W. NASH, head of the Nash Motor Co., not only knows how to catch fish but he is skilled in the proper manner of cooking them to a queen's taste, as seen in the photograph.

The accompanying photograph is one of C. W. Nash, automobile manufacturer, recently received by Charles McDaniel of the McDaniel Motor Co., 1234 South Brand boulevard, local distributors for Nash cars.

On his recent trip to Southern California, Mr. Nash accompanied a party on a fishing trip out east of Redlands. All was well until it came time to cook the fish. No one would volunteer.

Finally Mr. Nash himself turned in, and with his long experience in life in the woods and outdoors cooking, he did a mighty fine job of fish frying for the party.

"If you have any fishermen or hunters in Glendale, sell them a Nash car," Mr. Nash writes in connection with the photo he sent to Mr. McDaniel. "We found the Nash the real delight of the sportsman while touring Southern California. A real sturdy car that will do the things you want it to do when you are roughing it."

Sport Is Good
Fishing is good through this entire country and the following patterns will be found useful and should be carried in the collections: Royal Coachman, Grey Hocker, Black Gnat, Professor, Brown Hocker and Grey Willow. These, together with a few No. 4 and 5 spinners will make a complete tackle box and will surely bring results.

Although the lakes are in wonderful shape, the streams are still running high and most of them are muddy. Although the Kern is high, all of the tributaries are running clear and should furnish good sport.

Need Covering
Owing to the altitude of the country, it is well to be provided with plenty of cover and a good tent as the nights are still cold. Complete camping equipment should be carried but provisions may be had at any of the numerous camps.

The roads are very good, especially on the desert. The road crew has been busy for some time and the stretch of road between Mojave and Lone Pine has improved wonderfully through the work of the crews.

Information in addition to the above fishing data may be had together with a complete map showing every road and lake in the Bishop country by writing to "Outdoor" Franklin at the Western Auto Supply Co.

HUPP DEALER HAS FAITH IN FUTURE

Local Distributor Sees Last Half of Year as Good As First Half

During the second half of 1925 the sale of motor cars will be fully as great, if not somewhat greater, in the farming territory than during the first six months period. Officials of the Hupp Motor Car Co. give this as their opinion after a two months' trip through the great agricultural sections of the country, comprised of the mid-west and western states, according to H. V. White, manager of H. W. Swanson agency, Glendale Hupmobile dealer.

The tendency in the selling of the automobile is away from the seasonal idea, White says, toward an all year round proposition, in which sales for the last half of the year, will in all probability, be as great as during the first six months' period.

"The constantly growing demand for closed cars is one of the important factors in leveling out the seasonal selling peaks in the retail end of the motor car industry," he says. "Another important factor is the tremendous growth in good roads, enabling persons in the rural and farm districts to use their cars throughout the year."

STUDEBAKER CAR LEANS TO COLORS

Packer Motors Of Glendale Says This Trend Lends More Individuality

Every indication points to the next twelve months being the most colorful era of the automobile industry. Sober conservatism and somber black is doomed to be relegated to the discard by most manufacturers other than those making the lower priced cars, according to S. C. Packer, president of the Packer Motor Co., Inc., 245 South Brand boulevard, local Studebaker dealers.

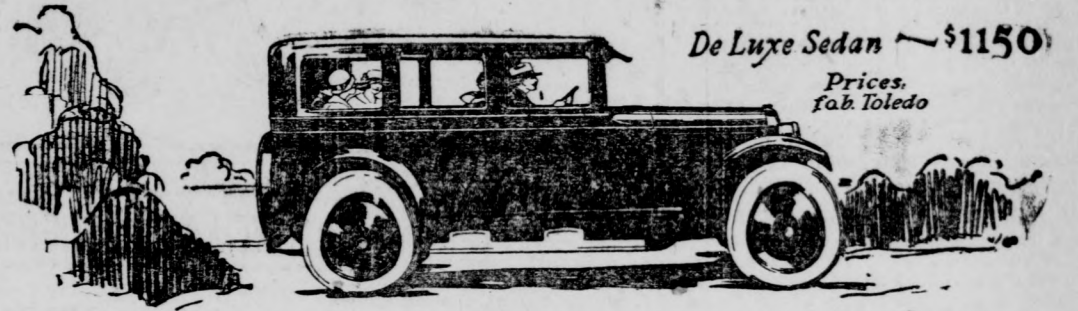

The trend toward colors will permit a much greater individuality in car design, for designers will be able to give full play to their artistic skill in blending harmonious shades in both exterior finishes and interior upholstery.

The development of Duco and similar finishes has made possible this departure from the plain black finishes of the past, and in this connection officials of the Studebaker company feel a deep paternal interest in this change to color artistry.

LOCAL REPORT IS ACCORDED HONOR

Reading Circle Work Given
First Place in State
By P.-T. A. Heads

Mrs. M. V. Henry, president of Mutual Benefit Reading Circle and chairman of the home department of first district Parent-Teacher association, reported yesterday at the meeting of the reading circle held at the library that the report she had sent in to the state headquarters ranked first and that the report of the second district, including the bay region, ranked second. The first district includes Los Angeles county, excepting Los Angeles city.

Announcement was also made that a special roundtable discussion of reading circle work would be held during the state Parent-Teacher association convention next week in Fresno by Mesdames O. H. Spradling, E. B. Moore, Mae Rosenberg and Arthur Franklin. Mrs. R. H. Thew made a request that members having magazines or books for children to read notify her by calling Glendale 951-J, as she is collecting the books for the children's hospital in Los Angeles.

Plan Annual Picnic

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic June 17 and the following committee appointed: Mesdames Roe, H. H. Harris and L. H. Thompson. Mrs. C. E. Rathbone will have charge of the program. A review of "The Romantic Story of Buttons" was given by Mrs. H. H. Harris. Following the rollcall and luncheon, Mrs. Henry read from the book, "The Home," by Charlotte Perkins Gilman, the chapter being on "Domestic Art."

Informal discussion of interior decorations was held, when the fact that different people have different ideas in regard to interior decorations was brought out and that a person might have a decorator look at his home and that what he would choose would probably not be suitable to the nature of the person for whom it was being selected.

PACKARD AGENCY TELLS CAR VALUE

Glendale Distributor Draws
Comparison Between Old And New

"It used to be that no matter how the car looked, so long as it ran, people were satisfied with it," says Mr. Daniels, owner of the Dixie Motor Co., 1131 South Brand boulevard, Glendale distributors for Packard.

Not so any more, according to Mr. Daniels. Modern conveniences added to the motor car of today are so great and so many that the average motorist overlooks half of them, even though he demands them upon his car.

High Class Car

Motoring has been made a real pleasure by the automobile engineers, who have, through the process of years, transformed the bare and stripped engine-propelled wagon of yesterday into the high-class motorcar of the present, so well typified in the Packard.

Packard strives to leave no want uncarried for in offering the latest models to the motoring public. The thousand and one conveniences are the result of years of careful motor planning and building, Mr. Daniels says, and are worthy of consideration when the purchase of a real motorcar is contemplated.

Re-manufactured Cars

Main bearing tool, shown here, with, is intricate machine built in the local shop, as was all of the other accurate machinery. The shop is a model of efficiency, it is pointed out, with real service for Glendale motorists.

Automobiles remanufactured!

That's the service to be rendered Glendale motorists by the Ed Holland Co., Inc., 341 West Colorado street, which recently completed a big addition to its plant that more than doubles its floor space.

Trade-in depreciation is nothing more than a bad dream, according to Ed Holland, manager of the plant. The company is equipped with machinery to rebuild used automobiles just as if they were sent back to the factory for re-manufacturing. All of the intricate tools and machines were made in the Holland shop here. They are made for both speed and accuracy. And speed, according to Holland, means lower prices to the auto owner.

The shop is being remodeled to give the most efficiency. Holland has inaugurated a system whereby, by everything, even the smallest part of a tool, has a place, and everything will be in its place when needed.

BUILDING HOME IMPORTANT STEP

Reliable Advice Found To Be Great Assistance In Saving Money

By DONALD GILLAN
Sales Manager, Bentley Lumber Co.

Many find the building or buying of a home the largest investment they ever make. It is a very important step. A home built or bought wisely may be the stepping stone to advancement and happiness, while a mistake may cause discouragement and loss of savings.

Most men and women who build or buy a home have never done it before and are usually unskilled, as people generally are in the things they do but once or twice in a lifetime. But lack of experience should deter no one.

Common Sense

There is a story of a man who, many years ago, came to Broadway at Times Square, and decided to wait until he believed it would be safe before crossing the crowded street. Twenty years have passed, and he is still waiting for absolute safety. The story of many a family that has been ready to own is only too similar.

The prospective home owner who uses his common sense in considering the real needs of his family and his ability to pay, and who checks his own judgment by consulting experienced persons, may go ahead with full confidence. He need not be frightened by the mistakes of headless persons who have been carried away by some novel feature and coaxed into a bad bargain, or who have tried to buy beyond their means. While some risks are involved, as is usually the case in obtaining anything worth while, the danger of failure is relatively small when weighed against the advantages of an owned home.

New Law Class

A parliamentary law class for newly elected Parent-Teacher association officers is being organized by Mrs. A. H. Brown, with Mrs. P. S. McNutt as instructor. The first meeting will be held at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, May 15, at the public library.

The final meeting of the federation for the year is to be a luncheon affair with installation of officers, the second Wednesday in June. Mrs. J. A. Grant, courtesy chairman, assisted by courtesy chairmen of the associations, is in charge.

At the meeting yesterday, Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, told of the recent meeting to consider the needs of elementary schools and the appointment of a committee of business men to make a survey. He stated that the committee will make the survey tomorrow and that a bond election will doubtless be called for the middle of June.

Gold Head Pheasant Is Reported Missing

A gold head pheasant with a brilliant tail a yard long, has escaped from its pen at 645 North Central avenue, and its owner, Mrs. Stella Goodman, is offering a reward for its recovery or any information regarding its whereabouts. Mrs. Goodman was feeding the pheasant and its mate when the male bird escaped and flew away. Mrs. Goodman is very anxious to recover the bird as she fears the female bird, who is setting on eggs, may leave her nest. The bird is a two years old and was raised in a tame bird in Glendale. The bird is very valuable and is a rare specimen and would be easily recognized by its brilliant plumage.

PARIS, May 7.—Even Paris has its prohibition problems. On the left bank, very near the old Cafe des Beaux Arts, the rendezvous of many Americans, is the cherished institution of the Prohibition League. In the windows are books and pictures giving striking evidence of the ravages wrought by liquor. There are even wonderful models of internal organs taken before and after imbibing the fluid. A series of illustrations shows all the sordid steps from the time the first sip was taken, including the beating of the wife and not bringing home the pay envelope. Passers-by often stand and gaze at the curious objects. One does not see many signs of drinking in the capital and yet all around the league's headquarters are little bars which seem to be doing a thriving business.

At any rate virtue seems to be in progress in Belgium. Only recently the prison at Marche found itself absolutely empty. The director, his wife and children; the chief guardian and the domestics sat around with folded hands, and the situation became very delicate. It was then decided to borrow a prisoner from another jail, which, as a matter of fact, had very few to lend. It is now feared that the lone jailbird will be petted and pampered to such an extent that he will not care to be set free.

Bashful bachelors will take heed! Madame Pauline Rudolph, a wealthy young widow, of Berne, claims to be the only woman aviator in Switzerland. Among her admirers was a young officer who was too shy to propose, so she took him for a sail in the clouds—"far from the madding crowd." Before they came down to earth the truth was out; and wedding bells are going to ring in the near future.

A Vegetarians' club has opened up spacious quarters in the French capital for those who adhere to the cult of "integral naturalism" and have abandoned meat and wine for fruits, vegetables and crystal-clear water. It is founded on the belief that "man's stomach was not made for a cemetery." The Naturists eat only vegetable food, cooked and raw, and all of them decline the good wine of France. Thick soups, rice, pumpkin, salads, beans and fruits are served in the restaurants at prices within the reach of all. It is good, simple, nourishing food—the proof of the pudding is the vegetarians' champion, Karl Mann, who has walked five times around Paris without a rest. He has lived on vegetable diet for years and has never drunk anything but water.

In a small village near Cherbourg a widow named Lecauf offered to keep watch during the night beside the corpse of a neighbor who had died suddenly. When another friend came early in the morning to relieve the widow of her lonely vigil, there were two dead bodies—Madame Lecauf had fallen dead over the corpse.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS
Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND TOOTER'S TOOT
Once upon a time Uncle Wiggily called to his new wife, whom he had married, together with a large number of little boy and girl rabbits, and said:

"My dear, I think I shall take some of the children out for a walk."
"That will be very kind of you," said Mrs. Uncle Wiggily. "How many will you take?"
"Oh, about half a dozen," answered Mr. Longears, as though speaking of eggs or something like that.
"Very well," agreed his wife.

"Then Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzie and I can do some work around the bungalow, which we couldn't do if all the children were playing in it. Hop along and good luck to you."
So Uncle Wiggily called to Nipper and Skipper, to Jingle, Jangle and Tangle, and to Tooter, which made just half a dozen of the children, and away the bunny gentleman started over the fields and through the woods with them. Nurse Jane, who still lived at the hollow stump bungalow under Uncle Wiggily married, helped Mrs. Longears with the work.

"Now," said Mr. Longears, speaking to the little children rabbits, "you know that there are many things for small bunnies to learn, so they will not be in danger when they go hopping around by themselves."

CROSS WORD PUZZLE FOR YOUNGSTERS

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE
The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

- Running Across
Word 1. He's in the picture.
Word 5. Pain in one's ear.
Word 7. What material used to cover roofs is called.
- Running Down
Word 2. A period in history.
Word 3. A person who is much smaller than the average man or woman.
Word 4. To regret or repent.
Word 5. Part of your head.
Word 6. A barnyard fowl.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

"Do we have to learn how to spell?" asked Nipper.
"That you will learn from the Lady Wood Teacher in the Hollow Stump School," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I can teach you how to keep out of danger from fox and wolf, how never to jump into a hole if you can not see a way out, and I will show you the poison weeds and grasses so you will not eat them by mistake."
"Will you show us how to have fun, too?" asked Jingle, who, with her sister Jangle, was a lively little rabbit, always trying to play a trick or a joke.

"Yes, on this little picnic we are taking now," said Uncle Wiggily, "we may have some fun. Now for the first lesson. I will teach you the difference between toadstools and mushrooms. Mushrooms are good for rabbits to eat, but toadstools, though they are jolly good little things to sit on, will make you very ill if you eat them." Then the bunny gentleman gave the little bunnies this lesson, and also told the many things they never knew before about the woods and fields.

"And now we will go over to that old stump," said Mr. Longears, and have some fun. I think I may find some lollipops in my pocket, and we can pretend we are having a picnic lunch."

The little bunnies thought this would be great fun, and they were running toward the stump when, all of a sudden, Tooter jumped over beside his new daddy and whispered:

"I see the old Fuzzy Fox creeping softly along by that stone fence down there," and Tooter pointed with one paw. "I think he is trying to sneak up and catch some of us!"

"I think so, too," whispered Uncle Wiggily as he and the little rabbits caught sight of the sly fox. And, indeed, the fox was hungry for some tender little rabbits. He had about given up trying to catch Uncle Wiggily.

"I know how we can scare that fox," went on Tooter.
"How?" asked Uncle Wiggily.
"I have a tin whistle in my pocket," said Tooter. "I will take it out and toot on it and the fox will think it is a police dog blowing his whistle and he will run!"

"That's a good idea, Tooter!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Go on—toot!"
But when Tooter tried to blow his whistle, or toot on it, he could not. He puffed out his cheeks and swelled up like a balloon, but still the whistle would not make a sound. "It's all stopped up with cracker dust that was in my pocket," said Tooter. "I will try again." Once more he puffed out his cheeks, but, instead of blowing the tooter gave a loud sneeze because some of the cracker dust flew up his nose.
"Ker choo! Ker choo! Ga zazzium!" sneezed Tooter, and he made such a strange, funny, scary sort of noise that the fox tucked his tail between his legs and howled:

"Oh, that must be a new sort of a fox. Uncle Wiggily's new little rabbits are getting ready to shoot! I'm going home!" and away he ran, frightened by Tooter's sneeze.

Then Uncle Wiggily laughed, and so did the little rabbits, and they had fun eating the lollipops. But there was none for the fox. And if the roof doesn't jump down off the top of the house to watch the cellar window play tag with the coalbin, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's dandelion pie.

Old California Ranch Goes To Subdivider

SANTA BARBARA, May 7.—The Hope ranch, one of the last of the famous old Southern California ranches, went out of existence here recently, when the only remaining parcel included in the once vast property was bought up by a syndicate of Los Angeles capitalists for subdivision purposes. The purchase was made from Maurice Heckscher of New York for a reported price of $750,000. The land bought comprised 1200 acres. Other portions of the old holding, which was originally a Spanish land grant, had been previously sold in small parcels.

She brings with her Ted Shapiro and Jack Carroll, who tickle the ivories on twin pianos. Sophie is the only one who can sing a "low-down" song and make the highbrows like it, and that is why Keith interests him as the "empress of syncope."

Mazie Clifton and Billie de Rex in a comedy character skit which they call "They're Different." The Giesdorf sisters, Irene, Elvira and Rae, will be seen and heard in their new song and dance offering.
Robert Emmett Keane and Claire Whitney, who are delighting Orpheumgoers this week, will stay a second week to offer a brand-new sketch, "The Gossipy Sex." Pablo de Sarto, violinist, and the Four Sensational Wiltons will top off a vaudeville bill that holds forth a lot of entertainment.

DYNAMITERS TO TAKE ON CITRUS

Game To Be Played Here On Friday Will Have Big Bearing On Place

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

With the chance for a tie for first or a lease on second place just over the hill, Coach Wolfe is pushing his Glendale Dynamite baseball nine to the limit in an effort to make the best possible showing this season in the diamond sport. Friday the local pelota artists couple with the Citrus mittmen on the home grounds at 3:30 o'clock. Friday's tilt, which is the next to the last in the loop schedule, will be a big factor in deciding the right to second place and may cut the cards as to which team will have a chance for the first berth.

As the schedule stands, Glendale and Citrus are racing neck in neck in a dead heat for second position, but when the two teams meet today either one or the other will fall back into third place with an even .500 per cent in the standing and Coach Wolfe is priming his crew in order that his cherubs will not be left in the dust. The Alhambra Moors lead the league with a clean slate, having trounced Glendale, Monrovia, and Covina. However, the Moors have had some close shaves, winning every game by a one run margin.

Doping It Out

Doping out a win for Glendale over the Lemons and a defeat of Alhambra by the Tigers looks fine on paper until it is recalled that the Tigers are the easiest meat in the loop this season and at the present time boast of three straight losses, a win for the Moors is practically certain. If the Moors clean South Pasadena when the two neighboring rivals tangle today, Glendale is given a bare chance of tying for first place if Citrus beats Alhambra in the last game and the locals best Covina next Friday. However, this hope is fairly far fetched and Old Man Luck will have to do some fast dealing in favor of G. U. H. S. if the locals have a look in on the pennant.

Nevertheless, the Dynamiters have an excellent chance to monopolize second place and at any rate have clinched the Central League Sweepstakes cup which goes to the school making the best showing in the four major sports of the year.

Charley Smith will start for the Red and Black while Elmer Muff dons the backstop's armor. The remainder of the line-up will most likely be the same, "Lefty" Brooks on first, Johnny Lovell at second, "Hank" Clark at short, and Ray Dell on third. Charley Ardoim, "Herk" Thompson and "Smoky" Smith will do the outfielding.

Taps Sounded For Old Madison Garden Ring

NEW YORK, May 7.—"Taps" had sounded today for old Madison Square garden but the veteran Johnny Dundee was still unbowed, a possible contender in many more fights. He took a defeat at the hands of the young and agile Sid Terris, but there was no dishonor attendant on Dundee's part in the obsequies for the memorable old temple of the prize ring, convention deadlocks and rodeos.

In fact, as a bugler took the place in the ring from which Joe Humphries has announced so many of the great and near great of fistiana, to sound "taps," there were sounds of dissent from the galleries over the decision which gave Terris the final victory in the garden.

FRY'S PHYSICAL FACTS

By PROF. BYRON G. FRY
Health Expert and Champion Bag Puncher of America.
Written For The Evening News
XIX—Starting Milk Diet

It will be advisable to get all the articles on the milk diet before starting to take the milk cure as there are many things the patient will need to know to be successful in getting a cure.

Milk will sometimes cause a diarrhea condition, in which case it will be found necessary to reduce the quantity taken until the diarrhea stops. Use skim milk and reduce the quantity until not more than one-fourth of a glass three times daily. If the diarrhea does not stop, the milk diet will have to be discontinued, but the above condition is usually caused by neglect to properly masticate the milk or drinking it too cold.

If the diarrhea stops the patient can increase the quantity until he is taking enough to keep up his strength. The amount will range from one to six quarts per day, in the case of a very large person the amount will sometimes be more. In my own case, I weigh 160 pounds and find that I can do hard labor on three quarts per day of well-masticated raw milk.

The person who wishes to gain weight will need more than skim milk and should use whole raw milk as the cream is fattening. Skim milk has plenty of strength. I have seen calves raised to maturity on skim milk, and many experimenters including myself have lived on it for months.

There are cases mentioned where people have lived as long as twenty years on milk alone and enjoyed the best of health.

If constipation should appear there are three remedies, one of which will invariably give relief. The most satisfactory is to increase the quantity of milk. By supplying the body with a large amount the functional system is stimulated and the constipation usually disappears. If this should fail, take daily from two to four teaspoons of specially prepared sand (sterilized and cleansed by boiling and sifting) while continuing the milk.

If the excess of milk cannot be taken for any reason, or the sand fails to produce the desired result, then you can eat figs, rolled wheat or oats raw, raisins with seeds, stewed prunes, baked or raw apples, in fact, almost any kind of fruit, including oranges or grape fruit, the latter being more effective. Also massage the abdomen very vigorously, while laying on the back with shoulders propped up. The Indians used to get results by laying on their

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, May 7.—It is not at all unlikely that Jack Dempsey will enter the ring for a bout in the course of the six weeks that he will remain abroad. The writer gets this from high authority.

Just before sailing for Europe there came from England an offer from Dempsey to box any opponent whatever. It was made clear that it made no great difference about the contender, that the main thing was to have Dempsey do his stuff in England under real fighting conditions.

By way of showing Dempsey's relation to Kearns it should be said that he transmitted the offer at once to his dapper manager, instructing him to go into the deal as he saw fit.

Personally Jack would not be at all averse to taking on some opponent while abroad by way of knocking some of the rust off him and preparing himself for further bouts in the United States.

The inside facts are that Dempsey has no idea of retiring from the ring and from all the writer gathers Mrs. Dempsey does not want him to. One of her recent remarks was as follows:

"I married a fighting man and of course I want him to fight."

The last week that Dempsey spent in New York convinced him that he never needed a manager of Kearns' cleverness as much as he did on his present trip.

He was in a jam from start to finish, his time being used up by non-essential persons and many affairs which he should have attended to left at ragged ends.

There is no more genial man than Dempsey and in his heart he dislikes hurting the feelings of others. This has placed him in situations where his time has been utterly wasted and the chances are that when he returns to this city Kearns will be on the job with frosty face and marble heart.

Contrary to general reports Dempsey's visit to the boxing commission in New York was a pleasant affair and the champion was treated—well, like a champion.

In Finland a boat that climbs out of the water on rails and then proceeds as a railway coach, has been invented.

backs and propping their shoulders up against a tree and rolling on a large round boulder around on their abdomen.

Tomorrow—Solid Foods and Milk

Eleven fishermen returned Monday from a three-day fishing trip to Silver lake, a cold body of water in the high Sierras at an altitude of 7200 feet. With them they brought a tale of a catch that numbered 187 trout, Dolly Vardens, Rainbow, cutthroat and brook trout. To prove it they brought two twenty-five foot poles after returning to Glendale, strung the fish along them and called a photographer.

Clayton Hull of Harris & Hull was the instigator of the excursion to Silver lake at the opening of the fishing season. He was accompanied by Lew Conover, George Sarver, V. B. Stone, city manager, Mayor MacBain, former Councilman Sam A. Davis, Frank Maloney, Charles Bowers, H. L. Conover, Roy Stevenson and Bob Jensen.

Leaving Glendale last Thursday noon, the party began its road on the trout hordes of Silver lake when the season was officially opened Friday morning. Most of the fish was caught with salmon egg bait, but on the last day in the mountains City Manager Stone and some others caught the limit by fly casting. Stone had been told it couldn't be done until the weather had warmed in the mountains. The snow is deep for hundreds of square miles thereabouts.

Besides the fish included in the picture the fishermen claim they ate about sixty-five while in camp. They produce the chef, George Sarver, to back them up in that.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, May 7.—May has barely dawned upon the baseball horizon and already the third basemen of the big leagues have amassed more than half of what ordinarily is regarded as a good season's fielding record.

For fifteen big league third basemen to accept eight or more fielding chances in a nine inning game is regarded as a good season's work. To date, there have been nine "eights," to say nothing of one nine and one "ten."

Jones of Detroit is credited with one "eight"; Prothro, Boston Americans, one; Heney, Detroit, one; Traynor, Pittsburgh, one; Robertson, St. Louis Americans, one; Stock, Brooklyn, one; Spurgeon, Cleveland, one; Marriot, Boston Nationals, one; Marriot has gone everybody else one better by adding a "ten" to his "eight," while Kamm of the Chicago White Sox is credited with a "nine."

Little Willie of the Sox has had nine in previous years and is likely to touch that figure again. Some day he may astonish the world by making a record at third that hasn't been touched since the old timers "played in" all the time for bunts.

There was a day when Jimmy Collins of the Bostonians played third base when he had to handle both bunts and skimmers, and did, and that is one reason why he had such a great fielding reputation. Many of the third basemen since his day haven't been able to handle both kinds of hits.

There has been 50 per cent less bunting in the last five years in baseball than there was before 1914, and it is to laugh when some of the third basemen of these times try to field the ball. It is the third basemen who are the hardest at fielding bunts who are making most of these wonderful fielding records this season, as there has been more bunting than there was in 1924.

It may also be true that the batters are giving more chances for third basemen by cutting the ball toward left field. That includes both right and left handed batters.

The second baseman, once the busiest athlete on the diamond, is being left in the background by the third baseman and the shortstop, and he will be badly left if the trend of the early part of the season is any forecast as to the way the wind is going to blow for the rest of the summer.

If the present ratio of accumulating fielding chances by third basemen continues, the number of times that eight chances or more will be fielded clearly this season will run around ninety. Baseball never heard of such a thing in all its history.

Even when they had a really lively ball in the old times, and the score always ran into two figures, it wouldn't have been possible for third basemen to run up a list of ninety such performances.

This sudden rush of hard work to the third base glove is the current mystery of baseball. Managers don't know how to account for it although all of them are theorizing. Maybe a new batting style has developed. The old adage was "hit 'em to right and advance the runner." This year they are hitting 'em to left and trusting to luck.

YANKS SLIPPING AS TOUR STARTS

Visions Of Pennant Fades With Scott On Bench; Pitchers Weak

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, May 7.—Disintegration and dry rot breaking through the surface like the blotches on an elderly banana, the New York Yankees, relic of a once proud baseball club, were headed west today behind the general conviction that the New York American league dynasty of pennant-winning teams is at an end.

The first gesture of capitulation was registered yesterday when Everett Scott failed to appear in the line-up for the first time since June 20, 1916, playing 1307 consecutive games. It was said that Scott felt "indisposed," but that was official hokum. The truth is that Scott can no longer get off his own instep, and Yankee pitchers alleged and otherwise, virtually demanded his retirement.

Scott was one of the disintegrating spots in the machine that won pennants in 1921, 1922 and 1923. Another is furnished by the very pitchers who were so loud in their complaints against him. Shawkey has become a five inning pitcher on his good days. Jones seems to have reached the end of his rope. Pennock still is able to pitch good ball but is hardly the star left hander of other years. Shocker beat the Senators in the season's opener but has been a flop in succeeding games. Hoyt, though young, seems to have become prematurely passe. He will be used in a trade, if Huggins can swing one—to his advantage.

Starting to Break

The rest of the outfit will be more or less foolproof when Ruth returns to the lineup, but its capabilities will have a minor effect on the situation. A ball club without pitchers and a shortstop is like a shirt without a front. The Yankees, in brief, have their points. But so has a barbed wire fence. The worst of it is that the Yankees know they are through, as evidenced by the official attempt to wait Scott out of the lineup under cover of empty excuses. Scott himself admitted the cause as he boarded the train last night and seemed to feel aggrieved.

"It seems funny that it should happen the day after we won a game and I got two hits," he said. "I don't mind breaking my streak. I was resigned to that anyhow. But after Tuesday's game, I felt as though I was just beginning to play ball. I'll never sit on the bench."

And there one sees another crevice in the Yankee armor. They haven't the proper confidence in Huggins' judgment. Any club so afflicted will break fast when it starts and the Yanks are well on their way.

Wilson School Team Faces Defeat, 13 to 4

The third game in the indoor schedule by intermediates was played Tuesday by the Junior boys teams on the Glendale Intermediate school grounds, the home team winning with a score of 13 to 4. Lineups were:

Wilson—Eugene Hibbs, c; Denny Tatlow, p; Walter Hilton, 1b; Gilbert Beckles, 2b; Donald Turner, ss; Edgar Blue, 3b; John Hoffman, lf; Teddy Edwards, cf; George Ross, rf.

Glendale—Kenneth Beales, cf; Ardel McLaughlin, p; Edwin Woodford, 1b; Marr Fraley, 2b; Obed Lucas, ss; Earl Byers, 3b; Duard Curtis, lf; Gordon Bates, cf; Frank Strickland, rf.

PROTESTS DELAY LIGHT SYSTEM

Councilman Kinch Demands More Speed In Colorado Improvement Work

In a sharp tilt over alleged delay in the preparation and presentation to the City Council of plans and procedures for installation of the ornamental lighting system on Colorado street, the council today ordered City Engineer J. F. Johansson to prepare the necessary documents with easements for light posts sites already obtained. Light posts will be left out in cases where easements are not obtained.

Following a demand by Councilman S. C. Kinch that the city engineer begin at once on preparation of the plans, City Manager V. B. Stone explained that work has been under way for some time but that all easements have not as yet been obtained.

"This council specifically instructed your city engineer to hold up procedure until all easements had been obtained," said Stone. "Now you ask that steps be taken to present the necessary plans and resolutions at once. I could recommend in that case that the council amend its former action to leave out light posts where easements have not been secured."

"Well, I move that the city engineer speed up, anyway," responded Kinch.

Protestants over the proposed abandoning of light posts at intervals where easements have not been obtained argued that confusion would result. One property owner, who declared that he "has given no easement and will give none until I know the kind of work that is going to be done," warned the council that he would throw the matter into the courts if the city attempted to assess him for conduit work when he had no lights.

Urges Competition
Fred A. Clarke, representing the Marbleite Corporation of America, urged the council to have competition for installation of the lights "thrown wide open."

Easements have been obtained which require that city standards be installed," he said. "I could go down among those property owners and in a day I could knock the whole thing over. I could show them where they could save from 75 cents to $1 a foot. I can't see why the city wants to go into the lighting standard business for, anyway."

His request that preliminary informal bids be submitted by various contractors for installation of the entire lighting system was referred to the committee of the whole for discussion.

MARKET SUMMARY

General Harbord reports a slight decrease in Radio Corporation of America business in the current quarter.

April sales for the S. H. Kresge chain stores increased 10.59 per cent in April, according to E. F. Hutton's market wires.

Los Angeles millers' prices are today reflecting the sharp advance in grains and record prices are being paid for beef here.

On the Los Angeles Stock Exchange several active bonds, including Pacific Electric 5s and Southern California Edison 6s and other power issues, reached new high quotations, indicating a strong demand for utility investments.

With public trade in wheat improving and Spain taking 4,000,000 bushels of the American crop, further advances are anticipated with an actual domestic shortage in sight this summer.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, May 7.—The trend of the prices in the stock market today was generally higher, though speculative movements were confined to a smaller number of stocks, in which the public utility stocks were the most prominent.

Steady earnings under the supervision of friendly combinations and the proven need of enormous expansion of facilities to serve their growing constituencies, are the main "talking points" in the sensational forward movements in utility shares in all markets, in the course of which prices have moved up from 10 to 220 points.

In a little more than a year, Utah Securities, a holding company for western power properties, has advanced from 17 to 127 in the new York market.

Federal Light & Traction added 6 points to yesterday's 6-point rise, reaching a new high, at 168. Other active utility stocks practically monopolized the market and sold up from 2 to 6 points in heavy trading.

Oil stocks were inactive though firm. Standard Oil of New Jersey continued its forward movement, and was not adversely affected by the decline of 2 cents a gallon in the price of Socony, in Greater New York. Reports that midwestern distributors were bidding fractionally higher prices for oil, which the storage supplies of eastern distributors were rapidly declining, prevented any hasty liquidation of oil stocks.

Kansas City Southern, Chicago Great Western and a few other low-priced rails sold in good volume in the early afternoon on renewal of merger talk in Washington and New York.

Call money was in good supply at 3 1/2 per cent, and outside markets were fairly steady.

The forward movement in public utilities was halted in the last hour by a wave of profit-taking which passed over the entire list. Rails and motors were also carried downward in heavy selling.

Mack Trucks served as a rallying ground for the motor shares and rushed up to a new high for 1925 at 153 1/4, up 3 points for the day. Hudson Motor was strong in the closing period and General Motors also made a good recovery.

Interest shifted from the power company stocks to the gas stocks, with Brooklyn Union Gas, Columbia and Consolidated Gas in the lead.

Low-priced rails spurred in the closing period, when Washington dispatches indicated that the Nickel Plate consolidation would be approved in such a way as to give full consideration to the claims of minority stockholders. Call money was marked down to 3 1/2 per cent near the close.

Sales today, 1,803,600 shares; bonds, $15,602,000.

"Good Doctor's" Appointment
To German Post Takes
Friend From Orientals

By BEN G. KLINE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—The sadly disrupted diplomatic body in Peking has lost its most energetic member in the person of Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, American minister, who is now en route to Washington preparatory to becoming ambassador to Germany.
Dr. Schurman assumed his Peking post four years ago, when the diplomatic body was still tenaciously clinging to its extraordinary powers secured after the Boxer uprising. After he left, the doyenship he relinquished was tendered to the Soviet ambassador, the only diplomat of that rank in Peking. The corps has lost its unity and prestige. Without its stern notes and the foreign office's acceptance (on paper) Peking will never be the same again.
Hereafter any pressure brought upon the Chinese will have to be by individual or groups of powers, resisted, with Russia at least supporting Peking. Through its own peculiar powers of obstruction and unlooked-for international developments China has at last virtually won its independence from that diplomatic body which for two decades wielded a unique power.
Believe in Fairness
Though one of the firmest in demanding that Peking live up to its obligations, Mr. Schurman was known among Chinese and foreigners alike as a believer in fairness and democracy. The

START SEWER WORK IN ATWATER SOON

Residents of District to Connect With
Main Line; Missionary Society
Celebrates Anniversary

Construction of the Glendale outfall sewer through the Atwater district proper will start shortly. The sewer line is now virtually completed as far as Los Feliz boulevard. A tunnel will be made under the boulevard at the junction of Glenfeliz boulevard.
Once the street has been crossed the sewer line will be continued down Glenfeliz, across Glendale boulevard and thence on through the Atwater section to a point where it will connect with a second unit of the outfall on the banks of the Los Angeles river. As the sewer is carried through the Atwater district, local mains will be connected with it in accordance with the agreement between Los Angeles and Glendale, granting permission for use of the outfall to serve Atwater district in exchange for the privilege of carrying the Glendale mains through Los Angeles territory and connecting later with the main Los Angeles outfall system.

Society Has Birthday

CORSET PUT INTO OBSOLETE CLASS
1-Piece Supporting Fixture
Now Universally Worn
By Fair Sex

NEW YORK, May 7.—Some one is always glorifying something in this country. Zeigfeld employs himself glorifying the American girl, the Lambs club recently glorified the American stage, Henry Ford and Buffalo Bill have glorified the American stage coach and now corset manufacturers are glorifying the carriage of the American woman by combining brassiere with corset, cincture, corselet or whatever you choose to call it. The one piece supporting garment reigns supreme and the old corset is as defunct as the dodo or the petticoat.
When the modern woman saunters forth these days she takes no chances that there is a loose button on her costume. For she cannot afford to lose one since it has become the mode to wear buttons decorated with real jewels. These are frequently seen on the waist coats worn under the spring tailcoats.
Drawn silk threads are now being extensively used as trimmings for new summer head gear. On them are made huge flowers much in the same manner in which ostrich plumes are used on the colder weather hats. These flowers are usually posed on the side of the crown of the rather high, wide-brimmed Bangkok straws.

Steel Holds Firm
PITTSBURGH, May 7.—The steel market has held its own the last week. Consumption is at a high rate. There has been no further softening of prices and a stiffening in tone is indicated. Production is now down nearly to the rate of buying. Pig iron remains stagnant.
Nobility likes to get his feet wet, but women have no objection to wearing the new watered satin pumps which have become popular in London, according to late dispatches. These are usually of black or brown and wavy lines of the weave are particularly attractive with the slightly darker hose now coming into favor.

COOLIDGE LOOKS LIKE CANDIDATE

Political Writer Sees Signs
Of Receptive Attitude
At White House

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
WASHINGTON, May 7.—There is every indication that Calvin Coolidge will be a receptive candidate for a second nomination for the presidency in 1928.
Many people who have been endeavoring to find out Mr. Coolidge's state of mind on this subject have not been able to obtain what may be construed as an assurance of his desire for another term but they have become definitely impressed that he is not opposed to another nomination.
There is, of course, no constitutional provision of law, which prevents a president from serving more than two terms but no president has ever been elected more than twice. The friends of President Coolidge contend that even if he were nominated and elected in 1928 he would still come within the unwritten law that no president shall be elected for more than two terms. Mr. Coolidge's first term is considered the unexpired term of his predecessor and since it was only a little more than a year, the argument is made that he is entitled to two full terms. Theodore Roosevelt took this view of this situation when after serving seven years he became a candidate in 1912 for a third term.

Coolidge Silent
Mr. Coolidge is naturally not permitting it to be believed that he is giving any thought to the question of the 1928 term and he would like to have people think he is allowing that situation to take care of itself. But the politicians want to know early. It has a bearing for instance on the next congressional campaign, which will start within a year. The president is represented as unwilling to enter into a contest for the nomination in 1928. In other words if he should succeed in holding a Republican majority in both houses in the elections to be held a year from next November, he would regard this as an approval of his administration. This would pave the way for a nomination in 1928 if business conditions and public opinion seems favorable.
If, on the other hand, Mr. Coolidge should lose Congress he would have difficulty getting a legislative program through and he might suffer the usual handicaps politically that a president incurs when an opposition Congress is shooting "pop gun" bills at him for veto.

Democrats' Argument
The Democrats are talking among themselves about the 1928 campaign, some of them taking the position that a campaign must be waged against the domination by wealth of the government and the existing administration. It is their argument that big business has things its own way under the present regime and that the "little fellow" can best be protected by a different type of administration. The Democrats hope by 1928 to have piled up enough controversies to make a point of this. What, of course, is an obstacle to such a campaign is the breach inside the Democratic party where one powerful faction would oppose a campaign against wealth as "radical." There are many Democrats who feel about big business somewhat as the Republicans do—they do not object to its fraternizing with the government if it produces good business conditions.

More and more the turn in politics is coming to depend on purely materialistic issues and even the Democrats are aware, that the old fight of 1912 along idealistic lines is not proving as good a vote getter as the "full dinner pail" and "high wages" which were slogans of the McKinley and Hanna campaigns.
